George Urges Conference With Or Without Russia

E. German Reds Fear Road Tax Might Backfire

BERLIN, April 3 (AP)—The East German government took uneasy notice today that its new road tax on trucks plying the superhighway into Berlin might backfire economically.

Deputy Premier Otto Nuschke declared in a front page article in Neue Zeit, organ of his Christian Democrat rump party in the East, that economic reprisals by the West would hurt "both Germans."

It was the first time the Communist administration had displayed concern at what the West might do if the road taxes are continued. The new tax went into effect at midnight April 1, rocking truckers with tax hikes as much as 10 times above former tolls.

"Political Blackmail"

The East Germans contend the taxes are necessary to keep the highway into the isolated city in good repair. West Germany and the Western Allies have termed the taxes "political blackmail" in retribution for West German ratification of the Paris agreements.

The Industrial Institute in Cologne, a Ruhr research bureau, called for an embargo on shipment of steel and industrial machinery to the East as reprisal against the road tax. Nuschke called this a "dark threat," and wagged a finger at West Germany.

"Naturally, veiled threats are made that international trade will be choked off. But that also means that the West German economy will be equally injured."

Russians Remain Silent

Berlin is an island deep inside Soviet-occupied East Germany. It is divided into four occupied sectors among the victors. To get into or out of the city to West Germany it is necessary to pass through or over about 100 miles of East Germany.

Thus far the Russians have taken no public notice of a protest against the tax raised by the West. They have, as a matter of fact, made no comment about the tax at all.

Dulles Will Delay Shigemitsu Talks

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles sent word today to Japan's foreign minister, Mamoru Shigemitsu, that he is unable at this time to arrange talks with him here on Japanese foreign policy.

Shigemitsu, faced with the urgent need for reaching an understanding with the United States on Japan's defense budget, was reported ready to fly to Washington early this week to discuss this and other problems.

Dulles said he regretted that his schedule would not permit adequate time to prepare for and discuss "matters of common interest now."

Henry Syudam, State Department press officer, said Dulles expressed hope that he could arrange for Shigemitsu to confer with him at a later date. The expectations were that the talks could be arranged within a few months.

Among the problems of mutual concern to the United States and Japan are Japan's trade relations with Communist China and forthcoming Japanese peace talks with the Soviet Union.

However, the pressing need appeared to be for Shigemitsu to confer with President Eisenhower, Dulles and Defense Department officials on the size of Japan's defense budget.

39 Belgians Die As Fire Sweeps Movie Theater

SCLESSIN, Belgium, April 3 (AP)—The tiny Theater Rio, packed with children and adults for the late afternoon show, burst into flames today and at least 39 persons died in the panic.

The 39 badly burned bodies, including those of 22 children, and a coffin full of human remains were removed from the burned out movie house late tonight.

They were placed in a nearby school gymnasium, in front of crudely painted stage sets for the last school entertainment, for relatives to identify the remains.

Screen Ignites

The Sclessin police commissioner said eight persons injured in the fire had been taken to hospitals. The theater, a narrow building in the middle of a Belgian and Italian steel workers' district, was showing "Adventure of Seville" in which the popular Basque crooner, Luis Mariano, is starring.

Suddenly, said eyewitnesses, the screen burst into flames. Someone shouted, "Fire!" A general panic followed, with the strongest forcing their way toward the main exit through a corridor 6 feet wide and 50 feet long.

The weaker were trampled underfoot by the rush of spectators in the front rows to the rear.

Emergency Exits Blocked
The emergency exits on either side of the screen were suddenly blocked by flames, and quickly the whole house was ablaze.

When firemen arrived there was not much they could do but protect nearby houses.

A priest, who arrived soon after the fire broke out, entered an emergency exit and found inside the hall, close to the doors, a pile of black and twisted bodies caught by the flames before they could reach safety.

Except for the facade the movie theater was reduced to a pile of black ruins.

Ex-Captive Back Home, Gets No Chance To Praise Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (AP)—Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett arrived home from China today and she was driven quickly out of the city by family friends. They gave her no chance to sing further praise of the Communists who imprisoned her 3½ years.

The slim, 35-year-old woman walked off the ship with her mother, Mrs. Harold Austin who flew here from Yonkers, N.Y. to meet her. A gray-haired male escort, declining to give even his name to waiting newsmen, piloted them hastily to his car.

"No statements. There will be no statements," the man said brusquely.

"What about your husband?" called out a reporter.

Mrs. Rickett glanced at the questioner, shook her head and passed on.

The husband, Walter Rickett, like his wife a Fulbright student

Senator Thinks Reds Would Join Top-Level Talks

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today it is "highly important" to the cause of peace that a top-level big power conference be held soon even if Russia should refuse to participate.

George, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has proposed that President Eisenhower sit down with the heads of state of Britain, France and Russia. Eisenhower has indicated his willingness if preliminaries can be arranged and there is some sign the Soviets would talk business.

While George said he believes Russia would join such a conference, he added in an interview that even if the Soviets don't he feels it is "imperative" that the Western leaders get together.

Peace Requires Meeting

"We are unable to proceed very far toward peace in the world situation today," he said. "That is one of the principal reasons why I suggested a top level conference in which Russia would be included. 'I believe the Russians will participate, but even if they don't we nations of the free world must understand each other and reach a measure of unity before any hopeful approach can be made to a reexamination of, among other things, our Far Eastern problems.'"

Although Soviet Premier Bulganin has indicated the Kremlin's willingness to participate, George noted reports that the Russians might balk at any discussion of German unification.

Part Of Soviet Campaign

The Georgia Democrat said he regarded this as only a part of the continuing Soviet campaign to prevent the carrying out of the agreements to rearm West Germany. Even if the Russians refused to talk about Germany, he said, a big power conference with them still would be worthwhile.

Moreover, he said he thinks the actual rearming — to which the Russians could be expected to object most violently — would require a minimum of two years even if carried out on only a modest scale.

George made it clear he regards Far Eastern problems as of more immediate import to peace than those in Europe.

Atom Antiaircraft Test Is Postponed By Plane Trouble

Two Israelis Slain In Clash With Egyptians

16 Troops Reported Wounded In 2-Hour Border Engagement

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, April 3 (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said today that two Israeli soldiers were killed and 16 wounded in a clash with Egyptian troops near the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

The Israelis were on patrol near Nahal Oz, not far from Gaza, when they were fired upon from an Egyptian position, he said.

The spokesman said reinforcements were brought up and "advanced toward the Egyptian position and silenced its fire to make possible the removal of the dead and wounded."

The engagement lasted two hours, the spokesman said. Both machine guns and mortars were employed in the clash, he said, adding that during the night the Egyptians had fired mortar shells at the settlement of Nahal Oz itself.

Egyptian Version

GAZA, April 3 (AP)—Egyptian and Israeli troops traded heavy mortar and automatic fire for one hour today in the latest skirmish inside the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

No Egyptians were killed or wounded, but Egyptian army officials claimed heavy casualties on the Israeli side.

Egyptian officials said three truckloads of Israelis crossed the armistice line near the headquarters of the United Nations Mixed Armistice Commission and began pumping automatic fire into an Egyptian post.

As the firing grew brisker, Israelis and Egyptians were reinforced, both sides using mortars.

The Egyptians claim the Israelis withdrew as darkness fell.

The Gaza area was the scene of an Israeli attack Feb. 28 in which 38 Egyptian soldiers and civilians and 8 Israelis died. The attack was condemned by the U.N. Security Council as premeditated.

Guylay New GOP Publicity Chief

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—L. Richard Guylay, 42-year-old New York publicity man formerly associated with the campaigns of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, is the new director of public relations for the Republican National Committee.

The appointment was announced today by GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who is directing committee affairs on the assumption that President Eisenhower will run again next year. Eisenhower has indicated he will not make known his decision until next spring.

A prediction that the President will not seek reelection came from Democratic Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, who told a reporter: "I don't think he likes the job, to begin with. And by next year I believe the Republican party will be so sharply splintered he would not take the nomination."

Guylay is reported to have been Hall's personal choice for the GOP public relations post. His job now will be to help direct the "selling" of the Eisenhower program to the voters. His salary was not announced.

He said all information pertaining to atomic energy has been made public except data on weapons.

South Viet Nam Premier, Sects Agree To Truce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 3 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, supposed the antigovernment coalition of religious sects and private political armies agreed tonight to a three day truce in their "little civil war."

One of the conditions of the verbal cease-fire agreement is the lifting of a partial blockade imposed by the Binh Xuyen Society and the Hoa Hao Religious Sect on food products coming to Saigon.

The truce, which ends Wednesday, was arranged by Gen. Paul Ely, commander of French Union troops and commissioner general for Indochina.

Premier Warns Sects

It was reached after four tense days of negotiation, climaxed by the stubborn little premier's warning to the sects he will "take severe sanctions against those who persist in their reprehensible path."

It came during a mounting period of bitterness against the French command and diplomatic mission here, who are accused by official Vietnamese sources of actively backing in words and deeds revolt of the politico-religious organizations against the American-supported premier.

Blockade To Be Lifted

The Binh Xuyen radio, speaking in the name of Gen. Le Van Hieu, former river pirate, and Hoa Hao Gen. Tran Van Soai, announced it will stop the blockade.

The Nationalist premier, in a hard hitting talk to the nation last night accused his enemies of "using threats against our compatriots who wish to transport their goods for sale at the market, thus preventing them from earning their livelihood and provoking a severe price rise at the expense of the population of Saigon."

VATICAN CITY, April 3 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, appearing fit and vigorous after last winter's illness, made his first Palm Sunday appearance in two years today. The pontiff, 79, took part in ceremonies opening holy week, held an audience for 1,000 persons and made a long address.

In the traditional Palm Sunday rite, the Pope was presented with two fronds prepared by the Camaldolese nuns from palms of the Bresca family in Genoa. Since the 16th century, the family has been charged with selecting palms to signify on this day the presentation of palms to Christ on his entry into Jerusalem. Three hundred of the artistic fronds created by the Camaldolese were used to decorate Vatican City and churches throughout Rome.

EL CENTRO, Calif., April 3 (AP)—Next year this city may have an Easter egg hunt just for mothers.

Two hundred mothers turned out yesterday at Stark Field, supposed just to watch while their children hunted 2,400 colored eggs.

Train Wreckage Is Cleared Away

ALBANY, N.Y., April 3 (AP)—Huge wrecking cranes worked at top speed today, clearing away the twisted wreckage of a fast New York Central passenger train that smashed into a rock slide and hurtled from the tracks beside the Hudson River.

More than 35 persons were injured in the crash just before dusk last night, a rescue worker estimated. Twenty-five were treated at hospitals here and in Hudson, but only 10 remained overnight.

The westbound combination Pacemaker and advance Commodore Vanderbilt was rushing through a 70-mile-an-hour zone at Schodack Landing about 15 miles south of Albany, when boulders and shale suddenly slid from the high embankment on the east side of the main line.

Passengers said the engineer, W. T. Kelly, 62, of Tarrytown, N. Y., slammed on the brakes but could not stop in time.

The leading unit of the double-diesel locomotive flipped end-over-end across the eastbound tracks and plunged down a 10-foot embankment.

Building Record Shattered First Three Months Of 1955

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The roaring construction boom put more new buildings in place during the first three months of this year than in any previous January-March period, the Commerce and Labor departments reported today.

Stepped-up building activity in March, soaring to $2,900,000,000, set a new high for that month and pushed construction during the first quarter to an unprecedented annual rate of 41 billion dollars, the report said.

If maintained throughout the rest of the year, this pace would result in a new banner construction year, about 10 per cent bigger than the 37½-billion-dollar rate set last year.

During the first three months of 1955, the joint report said, private expenditures accounted for three quarters of all new construction activity. Total construction during the three months came to a record $8,400,000,000, 13 per cent higher than in the first quarter of last year.

Public outlays in the first three months of this year, about 2½ billion dollars, were 4 per cent under expenditures during the first quarter of last year. The report attributed this to declines in public housing activity and most types of direct federal construction. The shrinkage in federal construction expenditure more than offset continued expansion of state and local public works.

Private residential building during March, the report said, increased "slightly less than seasonally" from the exceptionally high February level.

Nevertheless, outlays for new private residential building during March set a record for the month.

Senate-House Group Strives For Formula

Financial Program Last Major Block To Final Adjournment

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP)—Senate and House conferees worked tonight to break a deadlock on a tax program which remains the last big obstacle to final adjournment of the Maryland Legislature.

The 10-man group met for four hours today without reaching agreement on different proposals of the two houses but planned to get together again tonight to continue discussions.

A member of the conference committee said he felt "certain" a decision would be reached before the evening session breaks up.

While the Sunday talks were going on, other members of the Legislature were taking a rest prior to tomorrow's scheduled wind-up of the 90-day session. They will have to enact a tax program raising an additional 28½ million dollars to balance Gov. McKeldin's 269-million dollar budget before adjourning.

The House wanted to give the money to counties and cities but raise income taxes on individuals from 2 to 2½ per cent and on corporations from 4 to 5 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1 this year.

Both groups had incorporated certain other features such as applying the sales tax to equipment not readily obtainable in Maryland, equipment and materials leased by companies, and equalizing the gross receipts tax at 2 per cent instead of its present fluctuating rate.

The Senate also wanted to set income tax exemptions at a flat $800 per person and the House wanted to fix them at $900. The law now permits $1,000 deductions for the taxpayer and his wife and $600 for each additional dependent.

McKeldin Proposals Ignored
Legislators virtually ignored Gov. McKeldin's proposals to boost income and sales taxes by one per cent each but adopted his withholding tax proposal, which would raise from 25 to 28 million dollars next year by telescoping 18 months of collections into one fiscal year.

The conference committee of five members from each House began their talks late yesterday. They met for an hour and 20 minutes before the night session and from 11:30 p.m. until 1 a.m. after it was over. They resumed at 10 a.m. today and quit for the afternoon at 2 o'clock.

It was understood the House group might be willing to concede half of the county and city share of "windfall" money to the State, and this could be the key to unlocking differences.

This would still leave about $4,336,720 to go to subdivisions in addition to the some 10 million they already are scheduled to get under the Sherborn redistribution plan.

Guylay New GOP Publicity Chief

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—L. Richard Guylay, 42-year-old New York publicity man formerly associated with the campaigns of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, is the new director of public relations for the Republican National Committee.

The appointment was announced today by GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who is directing committee affairs on the assumption that President Eisenhower will run again next year. Eisenhower has indicated he will not make known his decision until next spring.

A prediction that the President will not seek reelection came from Democratic Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, who told a reporter: "I don't think he likes the job. I begin with. And by next year I believe the Republican party will be so sharply splintered he would not take the nomination."

Guylay is reported to have been Hall's personal choice for the GOP public relations post. His job now will be to help direct the "selling" of the Eisenhower program to the voters. His salary was not announced.

Strauss Says A-Tests Harmless To People

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said today the recent atomic tests in Nevada have been "completely without harm to the people of the United States."

Strauss, interviewed on a television program — NBC, "Youth Wants to Know"—said it would take 10,000 tests "of the size in this country" to equal one Pacific test explosion.

He said all information pertaining to atomic energy has been made public except data on weapons.

McCormick Funeral Today Will Be Private

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Eleven soldiers will be pallbearers tomorrow at the private funeral services for Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

A firing squad and bugler will perform the last military rites for the dead at the service at McCormick's estate, Cantigny, near suburban Wheaton. Burial will be on the estate.

Parents Pray Beside Slain Girl's Coffin — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaca pray beside the coffin of their daughter, Barbara, 7, whose mutilated body was found in a garbage dump near Detroit. Barbara will be buried tomorrow.

South Viet Nam Premier, Sects Agree To Truce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 3 (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and the antigovernment coalition of religious sects and private political armies agreed tonight to a three day truce in their "little civil war."

One of the conditions of the verbal cease-fire agreement is the lifting of a partial blockade imposed by the Binh Xuyen Society and the Hoa Hao Religious Sect on food products coming to Saigon.

The truce, which ends Wednesday, was arranged by Gen. Paul Ely, commander of French Union troops and commissioner general for Indochina.

Premier Warns Sects

It was reached after four tense days of negotiation, climaxed by the stubborn little premier's warning to the sects he will "take severe sanctions against those who persist in their reprehensible path."

It came during a mounting period of bitterness against the French command and diplomatic mission here, who are accused by official Vietnamese sources of actively backing in words and in deeds revolt of the politico-religious organizations against the American-supported premier.

Blockade To Be Lifted

The Binh Xuyen raid, speaking in the name of Gen. Le Van Vien, former river pirate, and Hoa Hao Gen. Tran Van Soai, announced it will stop the blockade.

The Nationalist premier, in a hard hitting talk to the nation last night accused his enemies of "using threats against our compatriots who wish to transport their goods for sale at the market, thus preventing them from earning their livelihood and provoking a severe price rise at the expense of the population of Saigon."

Pope Pius Takes Part In Palm Sunday Rite

VATICAN CITY, April 3 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, appearing fit and vigorous after last winter's illness, made his first Palm Sunday appearance in two years today. The pontiff, 79, took part in ceremonies opening holy week, held an audience for 1,000 persons and made a long address.

In the traditional Palm Sunday rite, the Pope was presented with two fronds prepared by the Camaldolese nuns from palms of the Bresca family in Genoa. Since the 18th century, the family has been charged with selecting palms to signify on this day the presentation of palms to Christ on his entry into Jerusalem. Three hundred of the artistic fronds created by the Camaldolites were used to decorate Vatican City and churches throughout Rome.

Stevens In Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 3 (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens arrived today amid reports Formosa's air strength may be increased.

Reports circulating in Taipei gave no details. Air strength would be bolstered either by turning over more planes to the Nationalists or by sending more U.S. planes to be based here.

Senate-House Group Strives For Formula

Financial Program Last Major Block To Final Adjournment

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP)—Senate and House conferees worked tonight to break a deadlock on a tax program which remains the last big obstacle to final adjournment of the Maryland Legislature.

The 10-man group met for four hours today without reaching agreement on different proposals of the two houses but planned to get together again tonight to continue discussions.

A member of the conference committee said he felt "certain" a decision would be reached before the evening session breaks up.

While the Sunday talks were going on, other members of the Legislature were taking a rest prior to tomorrow's scheduled wind-up of the 90-day session. They will have to enact a tax program raising an additional 28½ million dollars to balance Gov. McKeldin's 269-million dollar budget before adjourning.

Pay-As-You-Go Basis

The Senate proposed doing this by holding tax rates at their present level, putting the State on a pay-as-you-go income tax collection system and keeping for the State approximately 8½ million dollars which would normally go to the counties for this one-year windfall.

The House wanted to give the money to counties and cities but raise income taxes on individuals from 2 to 2½ per cent and on corporations from 4 to 5 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1 this year.

Both groups had incorporated certain other features such as applying the sales tax to equipment not readily obtainable in Maryland, equipment and materials leased by companies, and equalizing the gross receipts tax at 2 per cent instead of its present fluctuating rate.

The Senate also wanted to set income tax exemptions at a flat $800 per person and the House wanted to fix them at $900. The law now permits $1,000 deductions for the taxpayer and his wife and $600 for each additional dependent.

McKeldin Proposals Ignored

Legislators virtually ignored Gov. McKeldin's proposals to boost income and sales taxes by one per cent each but adopted his withholding tax proposal, which would raise from 25 to 28 million dollars next year by telescoping 18 months of collections into one fiscal year.

The conference committee of five members from each House began their talks late yesterday. They met for an hour and 20 minutes before the night session and from 11:30 p.m. until 1 a.m. after it was over. They resumed at 10 a.m. today and quit for the afternoon at 2 o'clock.

It was understood the House group might be willing to concede half of the county and city share of "windfall" money to the State, and this could be the key to unlocking differences.

This would still leave about $4,336,720 to go to subdivisions in addition to the some 10 million they already are scheduled to get under the Sherborn redistribution plan.

Quake Death Toll Mounts To 432

MANILA, April 3 (AP)—The death toll from the worst quake of the century in the Philippines reached 432 today, the Philippine News Service reported.

Charles R. Burrows, U.S. charge d'affairs, offered full American aid in the tremendous task of combating disease and suffering in the stricken southern Philippines.

The task ahead was tremendous. The Philippine Red Cross said 12,000 were homeless. It estimated 300 injured. But Philippine News Service said the number had risen to 2,000 as fresh reports came in from remote districts.

Hardest hit in Friday's great quake was the Lake Lanao district in northern Mindanao, second largest island of the Philippines.

Joseph Blandford Dies

CLINTON, Md., April 3 (AP)—Joseph H. Blandford, 78, Maryland agricultural and civic leader for many years, died today in La Plata, Md., Hospital. He suffered a heart attack last Wednesday.

Blandford served for 11 years as state chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration and its predecessor, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration (AAA).

Mothers Beat Kids To Hunt, Clean Out 2,400 Easter Eggs

EL CENTRO, Calif., April 3 (AP)—Next year this city may have an Easter egg hunt just for mothers.

Two hundred mothers turned out yesterday at Stark Field, supposed just to watch while their children hunted 2,400 colored eggs.

Only the mothers beat the youngsters to the hunt. They broke through the guard ropes, cleaned the field and left no eggs for the kids, said Bob Schwantz of the Chamber of Commerce.

Train Wreckage Is Cleared Away

ALBANY, N.Y., April 3 (AP)—Huge wrecking cranes worked at top speed today, clearing away the twisted wreckage of a fast New York Central passenger train that smashed into a rock slide and hurtled from the tracks beside the Hudson River.

More than 35 persons were injured in the crash just before dusk last night, a rescue worker estimated. Twenty-five were treated at hospitals here and in Hudson, but only 10 remained overnight.

The westbound combination Pacemaker and advance Commodore Vanderbilt was rushing through a 70-mile-an-hour zone at Schodack Landing about 15 miles south of Albany, when boulders and shale suddenly slid from the high embankment on the east side of the main line.

Passengers said the engineer, W. T. Kelly, 62, of Tarrytown, N. Y., slammed on the brakes but could not stop in time.

The leading unit of the double-diesel locomotive flipped end-over-end across the eastbound tracks and plunged down a 10-foot embankment.

Veteran Newsman Dies

ABILENE, Kan., April 3 (AP)—Charles M. Harger, 92, dean of Kansas newspapermen and friend of President Dwight Eisenhower, died in a local hospital today.

Harger, who helped Eisenhower get an appointment to the West Point Military Academy, was president and editor of the corporation which owned and operated the Abilene Reflector-Chronicle.

Maze Of Rumors About Malenkov Still Uncleared

MOSCOW, April 3 (AP)—It has been 11 days since ex-Premier Georgi M. Malenkov was last seen at a public function in Moscow. With Tass and the Soviet press keeping mum on the subject, his whereabouts are as big a mystery as ever.

Requests by Western reporters for an official statement on Malenkov's activities to clear up the maze of rumors centering around him have been fruitless. The nearest thing to a reply was the informal comment by one high Soviet official:

"A man has a right to take a day off."

Reported Seen Thursday

The first secretary of a Western embassy (not the American) claims he saw Malenkov last Thursday in a limousine leaving the Kremlin. There was no confirmation.

Last night Western correspondents rushed from a party at U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen's residence to be on hand for a concert commemorating the 10th anniversary of Hungary's liberation from the Nazis. The newsmen thought Malenkov might show up with other high Soviet officials.

The correspondents had even booked telephone calls in advance to report the anticipated news, but no one in the Soviet top bracket showed up.

Phone Calls Fruitless

Telephone calls to Malenkov's office in the Power Stations Ministry did not furnish a categorical answer. A secretary indicated, without saying it outright, that he was in, but busy.

Malenkov resigned as premier Feb. 8, blaming "inexperience" for "failure" in his job, particularly in promoting Soviet agriculture.

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin was named to succeed him. Malenkov was a deputy premier and given direction of Russia's electric power stations.

Wilson Advisor Dies

BOSTON, April 3 (AP)—Dr. Charles Adams Holder, 83, State Department foreign trade advisor under President Woodrow Wilson during the first world war, died yesterday at Massachusetts General Hospital after a long illness.

Building Record Shattered First Three Months Of 1955

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The roaring construction boom put more new buildings in place during the first three months of this year than in any previous January-March period, the Commerce and Labor departments reported today.

Stepped-up building activity in March, soaring to $2,900,000,000, set a new high for that month and pushed construction during the first quarter to an unprecedented annual rate of 41 billion dollars, the report said.

If maintained throughout the rest of the year, this pace would result in a new banner construction year, about 10 per cent bigger than the 37½-billion-dollar rate set last year.

During the first three months of 1955, the joint report said, private expenditures accounted for three quarters of all new construction activity. Total construction during the three months came to a record $8,400,000,000, 13 per cent higher than in the first quarter of last year.

Public outlays in the first three months of this year, about 2½ billion dollars, were 4 per cent under expenditures during the first quarter of last year. The report attributed this to declines in public housing activity and most types of direct federal construction. The shrinkage in federal construction expenditure more than offset continued expansion of state and local public works.

Private residential building during March, the report said, increased "slightly less than seasonally" from the exceptionally high February level.

Nevertheless, outlays for new private residential building during March set a record for the month.

Drug Company Changes Hands

The Truitt Drug Store Company of 238 Virginia Avenue has been purchased by C. Murray Allen and the business will be operated as C. Murray Allen, Pharmacist.

The business transaction brings to an end the long partnership of Webster K. Edwards and H. Clifford Spiker.

Hoover Group Proposes Centralization Of Federal Transportation Services

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The Hoover Commission proposed today that the government centralize its transportation services, costing three billion dollars a year, under civilian and military directors.

The commission said in a report to Congress that government-owned transport facilities are competing with private operators and, in the Defense Department, with one another.

It estimated its recommendations would trim costs by 150 million dollars annually, or about 1/2 of 1 per cent, and relieve the government of some business it said is needed by the private transportation industry.

The report was one of a series from the commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover on organization of the government's executive branch.

It said "horrible examples of waste and carelessness" in government transportation could be "multiplied almost to infinity," and it cited such examples as these:

Defense Department aircraft carried about eight million passengers in the 12 months ended June 30, 1954. About 4,800,000 of these were "hitch-hikers," or servicemen on leave.

Canned salmon bound for Bremerhaven, Germany, was shipped overland from the West Coast to the East Coast. The cost was about twice what it would have been had the salmon gone by an all-water route.

Pingpong balls were flown from Westover Field, Mass., to Berlin. "A substantial quantity" of dog food was flown from the West Coast to Okinawa. As a result, the commission said, some dogs on the island outpost were fed at a probable world's record cost per pound.

The Veterans Administration maintains three depots—at Somerville, N.J., Hines, Ill., and Wilmington, Calif. They ship supplies to installation in each of the 48 states. "Yet the General Services Administration has 12 depots throughout the country, many considerably closer to the Veterans Administration consuming centers."

Irate Father Slays Daughter's Friend

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 3 (AP)—An irate father shot and killed his daughter's boy friend early today as the teen-age couple stood talking in the vestibule of her home, police reported.

A shotgun blast struck 16-year-old Gordon Thuman in the neck and he died as Jean Klein, 19, watched.

John J. Klein, 71, father of the girl, was charged with first-degree manslaughter.

Deportation Balks Clergyman's Plan To Marry Orphan

PRESTWICK, Scotland, April 3 (AP)—Jack Horner, 27-year-old American clergyman who eloped to Scotland with a pretty English orphan, was deported tonight by order of the British Home Office.

The deportation thwarted his plan to marry 19-year-old Pamela Kirk, a blonde music student, April 13 in Edinburgh.

Two Scotland Yard officers brought Horner here from Edinburgh, where he was arrested yesterday and held in jail overnight. The detectives put him on a plane for New York.

Rash Of Forest Fires Breaks Out In State

BALTIMORE, April 3 (AP)—A rash of at least 90 weekend forest fires brought an appeal today from State Forester Henry C. Buckingham for sportsmen and farmers to stop lighting outdoor fires until further notice.

The weekend blazes destroyed 200 to 250 acres of timber. Most of them occurred Saturday, described by Buckingham as the worst day for foresters since the record drought of 1953.

The most destructive fire raged for five hours late Saturday on Mount Zion in the Catocins. An estimated 70 acres of woodland and 50 acres of grass were destroyed. The fire was brought under control about 8 p.m.

Gen. MacArthur Opposes Partial Yalta Release

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said tonight that if any documentary evidence on the events "which bear responsibility for the Yalta decisions" should be released, "it should be released in full."

"I would deprecate most unequivocally a partial and selective release," MacArthur said in a statement.

The former Far Eastern commander referred to action by the Army yesterday in leaving it up to the Defense Department whether to make public a series of 10-year-old documents, including MacArthur's messages concerning the war against Japan.

The documents relate to estimates on when the war would end and whether Russia should have been encouraged to enter it.

The Army's action yesterday followed MacArthur's renewed denial that he wanted Russian aid to win the war in Japan.

The Washington Post and Times Herald challenged this statement editorially on March 25, saying MacArthur was known to have pleaded "for concessions to get Russia into the Japanese war."

Nixon Says There's No 'War Party' In U.S.

CLEVELAND, April 3 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said tonight, "There is no war party in America."

We may advocate different policies we think are best to avoid war "but let us do so without questioning the motives of those who disagree with us," he said in excerpts prepared for a speech before the American Assn. of School Administrators.

Nixon made no mention of the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu by name.

Ike Cuts Short Stay At His Country Home

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House earlier than he had planned today but his wife stayed on at their new country home at Gettysburg, Pa., where they had gone for the weekend.

The President had intended to remain at his farm a little longer, but returned ahead of schedule to spend some time with his brother, Edgar Eisenhower, who is visiting here from Tacoma, Wash.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Perhaps Shakespeare was right when he called "Springtime the only pretty ring time." Traditional or not, "springtime-ring time" still prevails this year. The 1955 spring bride couldn't be prettier nor more starry-eyed.

Friends accuse a girl with stars in her eyes and a diamond on her finger of sitting on a pink cloud, dreaming of a fairy-tale wedding. This year the reality can surpass her dreaming for the color choice of wedding gowns seems to run to pink. "The bride wore pink" will be reported from the palest hint of color to a definite blush tone. It may not be more than a peek-through, such as a layer of pink tulle under a wedding gown of white Chantilly lace.

Whether you choose an ethereal creation in airy pink or traditional white or ivory, be sure that your wedding cosmetics complement it and also your own coloring. Take special care of your skin and watch your diet (see below for details about my booklet, "Your Beauty Diet"). Your foundation and powder should make your complexion very fair and delicate looking; your lipstick must be indeleible and of a dainty, feminine shade. Your nail polish should also be very delicate. Practice applying your "wedding-day-face" several times before the big day. Then, there will be no experimenting nor doubt about your ability to apply them effectively when the time comes.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem — whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Traditional Games Change Slowly

Traditional games of children throw light on the habits and customs of yesterday. In savage and civilized societies youngsters imitate the activities of their elders. It has been said that the work of adults in one age becomes the play of children in another.

Today's American boy in a space helmet and blue jeans plays many of the simple street games that delighted a togged lad in ancient Rome. The National Geographic Society, which delves deeply into such things, points to many striking similarities.

Street games are similar throughout the world. Tag, hide-and-seek and blindman's buff are as universal as child's play. Youths of long ago shot marbles. Their sisters played jackstones and a form of hopscotch. A picture of a boy with a hoop appears on a Grecian vase made 2,500 years ago. Homer, Vergil and Ovid refer to balls and dolls.

The Flemish artist Pieter Breughel depicted more than 150 different diversions in his painting, "Children's Games." The setting was Flanders, 1560 but it could well be any American playground in 1955.

Breughel's youngsters are playing leapfrog, follow-the-leader, crack-the-whip, guess-which-hand, marbles and other familiar games. Various children are scuffling, climbing and performing acrobatics on parallel bars. One boy is walking on stilts, and another is riding a stick horse.

Children's play is a joyful and innocent outpouring of energy, but some traditional games sprang from grim origins. Singing games, in particular, reflect old customs, and superstitions.

A striking example is "London Bridge," the game in which two children lock hands overhead and trap players in their suddenly lowered arms. The ritual suggests a primitive superstition that bridge-building angered river spirits and human sacrifice would appease them.

Tag represents flight from an evil spirit, against whose influence a special word, action or home base provides protection. "Counting out" games are passed from generation to generation.

Not Such A Joke

The Yalta documents were published in such a hurry that the deleted matter was crossed out but could be read. Most American newspapermen acknowledged the deletions by omitting the crossed-out matter. In Europe much of it has been published. Presumably when the official printed version appears, the crossed-out material will not be included.

During the session of February 10, Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill were discussing what could be done to make Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia happy. He apparently was hard to keep in line. Roosevelt's role in this conversation may be taken as an hilarious joke or as an off-the-record disclosure of an emotional attitude. These are the words on the record:

"The President replied that there was only one concession he thought he might offer and that was to give him (Ibn Saud) the six million Jews in the United States."

Roosevelt's relationship with members of the Jewish faith, both personally and politically, was extensive and intimate. One of his last and perhaps lasting political instructions, "Clear it with Sidney," meaning Sidney Hillman, referred to a labor leader of Jewish origin who was influential with Roosevelt during his governorship and presidency. One of his two principal speech-writers was Sam Rosenman; his secretary of the treasury was Henry Morgenthau Jr. and his philosophic mentor was Justice Felix Frankfurter of the Supreme Court.

Surely Roosevelt was not desirous of shipping them all to Saudi Arabia, or was he?

Stalin must have wondered what kind of a man was Roosevelt who admitted that he was not concerned about Poland but had to pacify the Americans of Polish descent who do have a large vote in certain big cities, particularly in Detroit, New York and Chicago. Stalin had no conception of what an American election means, he never having experienced one or anything like it. It must have struck Stalin as queer that so powerful a man as Roosevelt would be afraid of Jewish or Polish voters. Stalin would have known how to handle such people—he would have sent them to Yakutsk or some such place until they knew better and understood properly who was the boss man. Or he might have had them killed.

According to the "U. S. News and World Report," about 28 pages of military papers have been withheld, including some about Berlin, where it is to be remembered the United States got a zone without an entrance or an exit, so that we were stuck in the middle of Russian territory and we had to do the costly job which goes by the name of the Berlin Airlift.

Much more will come out than has already appeared. Some of the men who were present at Yalta will tell all, if only to establish their importance.

I find that on March 19, 1948, I wrote in the New York Sun concerning Yalta:

"Among a free people, those who participated in the errors must be held responsible for them. It may be pleasant for those who built reputations and made political profit by making mistakes to have us forget what they did and said when the going was smooth. However, now that their mistakes are being uncovered, they shout, 'Stop Thief!' We have to assume that those who supported Roosevelt's policy at Teheran and Yalta and Truman's policy at Potsdam, and such trivia as Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods, are responsible for our present misfortunes. It will avail them nothing, for they face the facts of their own incompetence. There is no longer any coverup."

And I find, in that ancient report, the following paragraph:

"On June 15, 1945, General Eisenhower told a press conference in Paris that so far as he is concerned, there is nothing to indicate that cooperation with the Russians is impossible. He said that 'peace lies with all the peoples of the world, not just for the moment with some political leaders.' I never quite knew how the people would produce peace unless they did it through their political leaders in control of their government. The fact is that they have not produced a peace, nor a peace treaty, nor a formula for peace, and they are all again talking about another war as though it were seasonal, like Easter or Christmas."

That paragraph might have been written last week or perhaps next week, so little has the situation changed.

Someone Took The Car Without Permission

Stevenson Must Pass Word If He Wants Nomination

WASHINGTON

If Adlai Stevenson wants the Democratic nomination, he can have it for the asking. On this point the shrewdest observers in the Democratic party are now agreed. But they also agree that, if he wants to run, Stevenson will have to pass the word soon—probably by September or October.

No one supposes that Stevenson is going to get up on a roof and shout at the top of his lungs that he wants another try at the White House. There are more delicate ways of making his wishes known.

For example, a move is already on foot to revive the Citizens for Stevenson organization, on a skeletal basis. But obviously the organization will not be revived without Stevenson's tacit consent. Or take the case of Pat Brown, attorney General of California. Brown is believed to be the only Democrat with a chance of beating Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel next year.

Brown has let it be known that he will run only on condition that Stevenson is the standard-bearer. If he is going to run, Brown must begin organizing fairly soon for the primary contest. Thus, if Brown decides to run, or if the Citizens for Stevenson movement is revived, this will be taken by the initiated as a sure sign that Stevenson is going to try again.

Plenty Of Signal Flags

There are plenty of other signal flags which Stevenson can hang out, and which the initiated can read without a code book. If the signal flags spell "yes"—and if they are hung out fairly soon—that will be that, in the now almost universal opinion among informed Democrats.

This is not because Stevenson is universally loved in his party. He is not. But he is at least reasonably acceptable to most sections of the party—more so than any other candidate presently visible. Thus a fight, inevitable in the case of any other candidate, can be avoided if Stevenson "goes."

Another reason why Stevenson can have the nomination for the asking—if he asks soon enough—is that the prize is not thought to be worth a great deal. The great majority of Democrats privately believe that, in a repeat of the 1952 race, Stevenson would be beaten again, perhaps worse than last time. But they think anyone else would be beaten worse than Stevenson.

By Stewart Alsop

Telepathic Understanding

Suppose the Stevenson signal flags read "no—but I'm for Averell Harriman." They are much more likely to read this way than a simple "no." According to reliable report, on their recent get-together in Albany, Stevenson and New York's Gov. Harriman reached an unspoken agreement, by a sort of mental telepathy. This telepathic understanding, put into words, might read about as follows:

Harriman: I'm for you if you run, Adlai, but I'm for myself if you don't.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Dishing up that cold Yalta Turkey is like court-martialing Columbus' mutinous sailors.

A Republican Senate didn't denounce the bill-of-sale until 1953. That's eight years after the baby went out with the bath water.

Are they trying to prove that Franklin Delano flipped his lid in 1945? We'll state he had been combing his hair with a nutcracker long before that.

Why not go back to Woodrow Wilson who was as batty as a guano cave at twilight? His slogan "He kept us out of war" got us into it. The nation was run by Dr. Cary Grayson and Mrs. Wilson while Woody clapped his hands at card tricks.

If we're going to place any credence in Moscow promises we're buying a log cabin in a forest fire.

To make the knees all the baggier Winsome Churchill drives up on foot and says that isn't the way he heard it.

Winnicker would be rich if he saved all the two cents he put in.

He was one of the Big Three at Yalta. While Franklin Delano squandered the world Winnie wasted a box of cigars.

Winnie objects to publishing the Yalta libretto so soon after 1945. Doesn't he know our boys put on long trousers when they're 10 years old?

Can it be possible that Sir Winnicker was two-timing us at Yalta. Or is he so parrot-toed he was playing footsies with himself?

There's more to this than meets the pay-roll. Like the peanuts and free potato chips we've been took.

It's too late for the casualty list of chilled, winded and hissing.

U. S. Will Be Forced To Fight Alone In War Over Matsu, Quemoy Islands

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Inside the White House — Here is why the President is so skittish about getting embroiled over Quemoy and Matsu. He has received a polite notice from Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama that Japan will not permit us to use Japanese bases to fight Red China. Japan, said Hatoyama, could not survive if we attacked the Chinese mainland from Japanese bases. . . . Also worrying Ike is flat notification from Canada that she will not support us in war over Quemoy-Matsu. Not only that, but Canada will withdraw the Canadian battalion from Korea if we go to war over the offshore islands. . . . Ike says he doesn't believe in going to war without allies. . . . The President gave Admiral Carney the bawling out of his life for holding that dinner with newsmen in which he set April 15 as the date for a Chinese attack. Eisenhower and Carney are old friends, having served together in Paris at SHAPE. The admiral is mild-mannered and unobtrusive, but Ike talked to him as he used to bawl out rookie troops when he was a drill sergeant. . . . The President apparently didn't know that it was Admiral Radford who put the usually silent Carney up to having the press-briefing session.

Inside the Pentagon — All is now quiet at the Pentagon. If you ask a general what time it is, he answers in a whisper. If you ask an admiral if it's raining outside, he says: "It's off the record." . . . Ike tied their tongues in such tight knots you can't get a "hello" out of them. . . . It was the President himself who ordered Secretary of Defense Wilson to stop all press conferences, speeches, statements, briefings, interviews and comments on military policy. The President threw such a scare into Wilson that he not only cut the entire public information program, but abruptly canceled a background briefing with Air chief Gen. Nate Twining, and suspended a U. S. News and World Report interview with Gen. Curtis Le May. . . . No more press conferences, either on or off the record. All's quiet, at least on the Pentagon side of the Potomac.

Inside the State Department — John Foster Dulles may not always play both sides of the street when it comes to Republican-Democratic politics, but he certainly plays both sides when it comes to tipping off the newspapers. . . . When he planted a copy of the secret, supposedly suppressed Yalta papers with the New York Times, the inside fact was that he evened up the score for a sensational Yalta tip he gave the rival New York Herald Tribune. . . . The facts have remained secret for 10 years, but can now be revealed.

It was exactly ten years to the very month that Dulles, then consultant to a Democratic State Department, tipped off Mrs. Ogden Reid owner-publisher of the Herald Tribune, that Russia would be given three votes in the United Nations. The U.S.A. and every other country were to get one vote. This secret deal was agreed upon at Yalta, incidentally, as it now develops, over the protest of Alger Hiss. It was one of the most hush-hush secrets of that conference—so secret that Secretary of State Ed Stettinius flatly, vigorously told the Herald Tribune it wasn't so. . . . Dulles, however, told Mrs. Reid's staff to stick by their guns. . . . She had passed the Dulles tip on to her Washington Bureau chief, the late Bert Andrews. His diplomatic correspondent, John Metcalfe, now head of the Metcalfe Lecture Bureau, queried Stettinius, plus other high-up State Department officials, got categorical denials. They went back to Dulles. He insisted the story was true. . . . This was in March 1945. Prior to this, Dulles had been featured as Thomas E. Dewey's secretary-of-state-to-be, if elected. In keeping with bipartisan foreign policy, Dulles had been invited to sit in on State Department conferences.

So the New York Herald Tribune, accepting Dulles, word, finally published the sensational story. . . . The news rocked the nation. But Roosevelt himself confirmed that Russia would get a total of three votes in the United Nations.

Inside the Senate — When senators probe the Yalta papers, they plan to ask Mr. Dulles why he leaked one Yalta secret to the New York Herald Tribune to embarrass the Democrats in 1945 and another Yalta secret to the New York Times to embarrass the Democrats in 1955. . . . Senators remember that John Foster had been a part of a Democratic State Department, either as consultant or full-time official for just about eight years. When he ran for the Senate against Herbert Lehman in 1950, he almost lost his State Department post, was finally saved by Dean Acheson. . . . During the Lehman-Dulles campaign, some harsh words were spoken against the long-time governor of New York. Dulles was both bitter and personal. After such a senatorial campaign, the winner usually objects to any federal job given his opponent. Accordingly, Truman ruled Dulles could not go back to the State Department as GOP adviser to Acheson. . . . Truman felt so strongly about this that he had a statement issued by the late Charlie Ross in Key West denying that Dulles would be permitted back.

Next day Dulles was appointed anyway. The appointment made the Key West office of the President look absurd. . . . Some people even thought Truman's staff had been drinking. . . . Many years later Mr. Truman told me that Secretary Acheson had called him personally to urge that Dulles come back despite his attacks on Lehman. Acheson felt it was important to the bipartisan foreign policy, to Truman reversed himself. . . . As of today no high-up Democrat has been taken into the State Department.

Merry-Go-Round

Douglas Dillon called on Secretary Dulles last week, told him he wants to resign as American ambassador to France by June 1. Dillon has never quite recovered from a back injury he suffered in Paris. . . . His successor still looks like Clare Boothe Luce, our glamorous ambassador to Italy. . . . Senators are whispering about the hot backstage poker sessions carried on by the two most devoted poker players—Senators Welker of Idaho and Jenner of Indiana. . . . Oveta Culp Hobby, the secretary of health, education and welfare, wants a new name for her agency. She blames her poor publicity on the agency's awkward name. . . . The administration has found a new way to save money. It will order government-subsidized shipping companies to stop serving their seamen fancy meals.

Advice On Retirement

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. —This time of year I get many letters as to the best place to live from people about to be pensioned. They seem to favor Florida, California, Arizona and other southern states. They appear to be tiring of cold winters.

Where To Go?

Localities which are attractive and have good business during the winter months may be unpleasant and unprofitable during the summer. The reverse is also true. Certainly no state or county or community has all the advantages or disadvantages. The birds learned this after millions of years of experience! I selected summer headquarters in New England and winter headquarters in Florida—even before man had joined the birds in air transportation.

A warm climate would doubtless be desirable for an older couple; but it may not be wise for a young couple with children. There is something debilitating and enervating in climates that are too warm, especially when the heat is of long duration. Statistics published by Yale University show that the most energetic and intelligent people develop under marked contrasts of climate. The "terrible weather changes" of New England may have created the energy which financed so many farms and cities and built railroads across the United States.

Importance Of Income

The much-advertised growth of such states as Florida, California, and Arizona does not stem from new babies, or agricultural producers. "Newcomers" are moving in to retire and take it easy. They must be sure a check will come from the North each month to use as a nest egg or backlog. I refer to pension money, insurance, rents on northern property—or dividends on stocks or interest on bonds or mortgages. Social Security checks are a help, but they will not pay all the bills in any state to which the people are now flocking.

Don't expect a big dip in living costs in these delightful winter climates. You may not need so much fuel or electricity or clothing, but food and rents cost as much considering what you get. There is no reduction in doctors' or dentists' or hospital bills, while beauty-parlor bills are reported to be higher! Florida does give homestead tax exemption on property up to $5,000. Different states and cities have different ways of collecting taxes, but in the end they add up to about the same.

A Job Or A Business?

Many retired men get restless after a while. If you want a job, get work in something in which you are trained. If considering a business of your own, work on salary before buying. Caretakers' service, collection agencies, tree nurseries, diaper services, frozen-food deliveries, clothes repairing and pressing, manufacturers' representatives, spraying, shopping, typing, and real estate look best to me.

What about buying a home? This is not a bad idea but there are certain qualifications you should consider: Near stores and churches; with land for a vegetable garden and a possible future sale of an extra lot; and in a section which is improving and not declining. Better live in a community a year before buying real estate, to get the feeling! Real-estate values are determined by feeling and not figures.

Final Advice

You can select a state to which to move by studying maps, real-estate booklets, and other propaganda. Then write to the state chamber of commerce located at the capital of the state that you are thinking of moving to. Tell them you would appreciate information regarding different localities, climate, and opportunities. But do not select any locality of that state without first visiting it, even if you need a leave-of-absence from your job in order to do this. In closing, just a word of financial advice: If you are looking for acreage, buy land adjoining some owned by the United States Agricultural Department and used as an experiment station. This should be good land and easy to dispose of if you ever wish to sell at a profit. This applies to all states.

Fewer Complications, Deaths Result From Measles

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Civilized man is becoming measlesized. The disease still is with us but there are fewer complications and deaths. This is in sharp contrast to primitive peoples who are highly susceptible because they have no natural immunity.

In this country, measles is relatively benign. It occurs in epidemic proportions at two to three year intervals and usually affects all the susceptible children in the neighborhood.

The situation differs when an outbreak occurs, in a population that has had little contact with the infection. In 1846 the Faroe Islands were stricken and 97 per cent of the men, women, and children developed the disease. Only those persons were spared who had suffered from measles during an epidemic 65 years previously.

In April 1951 an individual coming down with the malady attended a large dance in southern Greenland. This was virgin territory as no one in that area ever had had measles. Greenlanders are sociable and the epidemic spread; within 40 days the disease had run its course, attacking almost 100 per cent of the population. Only five escaped, of whom two lived in isolated localities.

Measles usually develops from 10 to 14 days after exposure. In the early stages, symptoms are indistinguishable from ordinary coryza except for the appearance of Koplik's spots in the mouth. Coughing and sneezing are common and at this point the disease is most contagious. After the rash breaks out, the chances of transmitting the organisms become less and less.

The physician insists upon isolation, however, because complications from secondary bacteria, such as staphylococci or streptococci may develop. Ear infections, pneumonia, and encephalitis are the most frequent and they are best treated with the wonder drugs.

Ordinarily, these products are ineffective against measles, which is caused by a virus. The situation is different with complications because by this time, a different group of organisms has taken over.

HEREDITARY DEFECT

T. Y. writes: If one party to a marriage has webbed toes, will the offspring all have the same defect?

REPLY

Not necessarily, but if the right set of genes gets together, some of the children are likely to inherit webbed toes.

OIL MESSAGE

D. F. writes: Will massaging the scalp with olive oil remedy beginning baldness?

REPLY

Yes, providing hair loss is due to unusual dryness of the scalp. But all the oil in Iran will not correct hereditary baldness or that caused by seborrheic dermatitis (oily dandruff) or ringworm. The same can be said of alopecia areata, or patchy baldness.

FOOT REST

F. W. writes: What would you suggest for tired feet?

REPLY

During the day, elevate the feet during your coffee break or whenever possible. When you come home from work, sit in an easy chair with the feet placed on a hassock. Soak the feet in warm water before going to bed. Anyone who stands most of the day ought to wear good shoes that offer real support. If these measures give no relief, ask your physician to examine your lower extremities to see if any abnormality exists.

TOMORROW: Varieties of arthritis.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Josh Billings (real name, Henry Wheeler Shaw) was one of the most popular American humorists a hundred years ago. He wowed 'em with his homely philosophy, deliberately misspelled. Josh began his career as an auctioneer in Poughkeepsie, but made the big time with gems like the following:

Konsider a postage stamp; it sticks taw the job til the goods is delivered.

It's better to know nothing than to know what ain't so.

The wheel that squeaks loudest is the one that gets the grease. A sekret ceases to be a sekret if once it's confided. It is like a dollar bill: once broken it's never a dollar again.

Traditional Games Change Slowly

Traditional games of children throw light on the habits and customs of yesterday. In savage and civilized societies youngsters imitate the activities of their elders. It has been said that the work of adults in one age becomes the play of children in another.

Today's American boy in a space helmet and blue jeans plays many of the simple street games that delighted a togaed lad in ancient Rome. The National Geographic Society, which delves deeply into such things, points to many striking similarities.

Street games are similar throughout the world. Tag, hide-and-seek and blindman's buff are universal as child's play. Youths of long ago shot marbles. Their sisters played jackstones and a form of hopscotch. A picture of a boy with a hoop appears on a Grecian vase made 2,500 years ago. Homer, Vergil and Ovid refer to balls and dolls.

The Flemish artist Pieter Breughel depicted more than 150 different diversions in his painting, "Children's Games." The setting was Flanders, 1560 but it could well be any American playground in 1955.

Breughel's youngsters are playing leapfrog, follow-the-leader, crack-the-whip, guess-which-hand, marbles and other familiar games. Various children are scuffling, climbing and performing acrobatics on parallel bars. One boy is walking on stilts, and another is riding a stick horse.

Children's play is a joyful and innocent outpouring of energy, but some traditional games sprang from grim origins. Singing games, in particular, reflect old customs, and superstitions.

A striking example is "London Bridge," the game in which two children lock hands overhead and trap players in their suddenly lowered arms. The ritual suggests a primitive superstition that bridge-building angered river spirits and human sacrifice would appease them.

Tag represents flight from an evil spirit, against whose influence a special word, action or home base provides protection. "Counting out" games are passed from generation to generation.

Not Such A Joke

The Yalta documents were published in such a hurry that the deleted matter was crossed out but could be read. Most American newspapers acknowledged the deletions by omitting the crossed-out matter. In Europe much of it has been published. Presumably when the official printed version appears, the crossed-out material will not be included.

During the session of February 10, Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill were discussing what could be done to make Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia happy. He apparently was hard to keep in line. Roosevelt's role in this conversation may be taken as an hilarious joke or as an off-the-record disclosure of an emotional attitude. These are the words on the record:

"The President replied that there was only one concession he thought he might offer and that was to give him (Ibn Saud) the six million Jews in the United States."

Roosevelt's relationship with members of the Jewish faith, both personally and politically, was extensive and intimate. One of his last and perhaps lasting political instructions, "Clear it with Sidney," meaning Sidney Hillman, referred to a labor leader of Jewish origin who was influential with Roosevelt during his governorship and presidency. One of his two principal speech-writers was Sam Rosenman; his secretary of the treasury was Henry Morgenthau Jr. and his philosophic mentor was Justice Felix Frankfurter of the Supreme Court.

Surely Roosevelt was not desirous of shipping them all to Saudi Arabia, or was he?

Stalin must have wondered what kind of a man was Roosevelt who admitted that he was not concerned about Poland but had to pacify the Americans of Polish descent who do have a large vote in certain big cities, particularly in Detroit, New York and Chicago. Stalin had no conception of what an American election means, he never having experienced one or anything like it. It must have struck Stalin as queer that so powerful a man as Roosevelt would be afraid of Jewish or Polish voters. Stalin would have known how to handle such people—he would have sent them to Yakutsk or some such place until they knew better and understood properly who was the boss man. Or he might have had them killed.

According to the "U. S. News and World Report," about 25 pages of military papers have been withheld, including some about Berlin, where it is to be remembered the United States got a zone without an entrance or an exit, so that we were stuck in the middle of Russian territory and we had to do the costly job which goes by the name of the Berlin Airlift.

Much more will come out than has already appeared. Some of the men who were present at Yalta will tell all, if only to establish their importance.

I find that on March 19, 1948, I wrote in the New York Sun concerning Yalta:

"Among a free people, those who participated in the errors must be held responsible for them. It may be pleasant for those who built reputations and made political profit by making mistakes to have us forget what they did and said when the going was smooth. However, now that their mistakes are being uncovered, they shout, 'Stop Thief!' We have to assume that those who supported Roosevelt's policy at Tehran and Yalta and Truman's policy at Potsdam, and such trivia as Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods, are responsible for our present misfortunes. It will avail them nothing, for they face the facts of their own incompetence. There is no longer any coverup."

And I find, in that ancient report, the following paragraph:

"On June 15, 1945, General Eisenhower told a press conference in Paris that so far as he is concerned, there is nothing to indicate that cooperation with the Russians is impossible. He said that 'peace lies with all the peoples of the world, not just for the moment with some political leaders.' I never quite knew how the people would produce peace unless they did it through their political leaders in control of their government. The fact is that they have not produced a peace, nor a peace treaty, nor a formula for peace, and they are all again talking about another war as though it were seasonal, like Easter or Christmas."

That paragraph might have been written last week or perhaps next week, so little has the situation changed.

Someone Took The Car Without Permission

Stevenson Must Pass Word If He Wants Nomination

WASHINGTON

If Adlai Stevenson wants the Democratic nomination, he can have it for the asking. On this point the shrewdest observers in the Democratic party are now agreed. But they also agree that, if he wants to run, Stevenson will have to pass the word soon—probably by September or October.

No one supposes that Stevenson is going to get up on a roof and shout at the top of his lungs that he wants another try at the White House. There are more delicate ways of making his wishes known.

For example, a move is already on foot to revive the Citizens for Stevenson organization, on a skeletal basis. But obviously the organization will not be revived without Stevenson's tacit consent. Or take the case of Pat Brown, attorney General of California. Brown is believed to be the only Democrat with a chance of beating Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel next year.

Brown has let it be known that he will run only on condition that Stevenson is the standard-bearer. If he is going to run, Brown must begin organizing fairly soon for the primary contest. Thus, if Brown decides to run, or if the Citizens for Stevenson movement is revived, this will be taken by the initiated as a sure sign that Stevenson is going to try again.

Plenty Of Signal Flags

There are plenty of other signal flags which Stevenson can hang out, and which the initiated can read without a code book. If the signal flags spell "yes"—and if they are hung out fairly soon—that will be that, in the now almost universal opinion among informed Democrats.

This is not because Stevenson is universally loved in his party. He is not. But he is at least reasonably acceptable to most sections of the party—more so than any other candidate presently visible. Thus a fight, inevitable in the case of any other candidate, can be avoided if Stevenson "goes."

Another reason why Stevenson can have the nomination for the asking—if he asks soon enough—is that the prize is not thought to be worth a great deal. The great majority of Democrats privately believe that, in a repeat of the 1952 race, Stevenson would be beaten again, perhaps worse than last time. But they think anyone else would be beaten worse than Stevenson.

By Stewart Alsop

Telepathic Understanding

Suppose the Stevenson signal flags read "no—but I'm for Averell Harriman." They are much more likely to read this way than a simple "no." According to reliable report, on their recent get-together in Albany, Stevenson and New York's Gov. Harriman reached an unspoken agreement, by a sort of mental telepathy. This telepathic understanding, put into words, might read about as follows:

Harriman: I'm for you if you run, Adlai, but I'm for myself if you don't.

U. S. Will Be Forced To Fight Alone In War Over Matsu, Quemoy Islands

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Inside the White House — Here is why the President is so skittish about getting embroiled over Quemoy and Matsu. He has received a polite notice from Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama that Japan will not permit us to use Japanese bases to fight Red China. Japan, said Hatoyama, could not survive if we attacked the Chinese mainland from Japanese bases. . . . Also worrying Ike is flat notification from Canada that she will not support us in war over Quemoy-Matsu. Not only that, but Canada will withdraw the Canadian battalion from Korea if we go to war over the offshore islands. . . . Ike says he doesn't believe in going to war without allies. . . . The President gave Admiral Carney the bawling out of his life for holding that dinner with newsmen in which he set April 15 as the date for a Chinese attack. Eisenhower and Carney are old friends, having served together in Paris at SHAPE. The admiral is mild-mannered and unobtrusive, but Ike talked to him as he used to bawl out rookie troops when he was a drill sergeant. . . . The President apparently didn't know that it was Admiral Radford who put the usually silent Carney up to having the press-briefing session.

Inside the Pentagon — All is now quiet at the Pentagon. If you ask a general what time it is, he answers in a whisper. If you ask an admiral if it's raining outside, he says: "It's off the record." . . . Ike tied their tongues in such tight knots you can't get a "hello" out of them. . . . It was the President himself who ordered Secretary of Defense Wilson to stop all press conferences, speeches, statements, briefings, interviews and communications on military policy. The President threw such a scare into Wilson that he not only cut the entire public information program, but abruptly canceled a background briefing with Air chief Gen. Nate Twining, and suspended a U. S. News and World Report interview with Gen. Curtis Le May. . . . No more press conferences, either on or off the record. All's quiet, at least on the Pentagon side of the Potomac.

Inside the State Department — John Foster Dulles may not always play both sides of the street when it comes to Republican-Democratic politics, but he certainly plays both sides when it comes to tipping off the newspapers. . . . When he planted a copy of the secret, supposedly suppressed Yalta papers with the New York Times, the inside fact was that he evened up the score for a sensational Yalta tip he gave the rival New York Herald Tribune. The facts have remained secret for 10 years, but can now be revealed.

It was exactly ten years to the very month that Dulles, then consultant to a Democratic State Department, tipped off Mrs. Ogden Reid owner-publisher of the Herald Tribune, that Russia would be given three votes in the United Nations. The U.S.A. and every other country were to get one vote. This secret deal was agreed upon at Yalta, incidentally, as it now develops, over the protest of Alger Hiss. It was one of the most hush-hush secrets of that conference—so secret that Secretary of State Ed Stettinius flatly, vigorously told the Herald Tribune it wasn't so. . . . Dulles, however, told Mrs. Reid's staff to stick by their guns. . . . She had passed the Dulles tip on to her Washington Bureau chief, the late Bert Andrews. His diplomatic correspondent, John Metcalfe, now head of the Metcalfe Lecture Bureau, queried Stettinius, plus other high-up State Department officials, got categorical denials. They went back to Dulles. He insisted the story was true. . . . This was in March 1945. Prior to this, Dulles had been featured as Thomas E. Dewey's secretary-of-state-to-be, if elected. In keeping with bipartisan foreign policy, Dulles had been invited to sit in on State Department conferences.

So the New York Herald Tribune, accepting Dulles' word, finally published the sensational story. The news rocked the nation. But Roosevelt himself confirmed that Russia would get a total of three votes in the United Nations.

Advice On Retirement

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. —This time of year I get many letters as to the best place to live from people about to be pensioned. They seem to favor Florida, California, Arizona and other southern states. They appear to be tiring of cold winters.

Where To Go?

Localities which are attractive and have good business during the winter months may be unpleasant and unprofitable during the summer. The reverse is also true. Certainly no state or county or community has all the advantages or disadvantages. The birds learned this after millions of years' experience! I selected summer headquarters in New England and winter headquarters in Florida—even before man had joined the birds in air transportation.

A warm climate would doubtless be desirable for an older couple; but it may not be wise for a young couple with children. There is something debilitating and enervating in climates that are too warm, especially when the heat is of long duration. Statistics published by Yale University show that the most energetic and intelligent people develop under marked contrasts of climate. The "terrible weather changes" of New England may have created the energy which financed so many farms and cities and built railroads across the United States.

Importance Of Income

The much-advertised growth of such states as Florida, California, and Arizona does not stem from new babies, or agricultural producers. "Newcomers" are moving in to retire and take it easy. They must be sure a check will come from the North each month to use as a nest egg or backlog. I refer to pension money, insurance, rents on northern property—or dividends on stocks or interest on bonds or mortgages. Social Security checks are a help, but they will not pay all the bills in any state to which the people are now flocking.

Don't expect a big dip in living costs in these delightful winter climates. You may not need so much fuel or electricity or clothing, but food and rents cost as much considering what you get. There is no reduction in doctors' or dentists' or hospital bills, while beauty-parlor bills are reported to be higher! Florida does give homestead tax exemption on property up to $5,000. Different states and cities have different ways of collecting taxes, but in the end they add up to about the same.

A Job Or A Business? Many retired men get restless after a while. If you want a job, get work in something in which you are trained. If considering a business of your own, work on salary before buying. Carpenters' service, collection agencies, tree nurseries, diaper services, frozen-food deliveries, clothes repairing and pressing, manufacturers' representatives, spraying, shopping, typing, and real estate look best to me.

What about buying a home? This is not a bad idea but there are certain qualifications you should consider: Near stores and churches; with land for a vegetable garden and a possible future sale of an extra lot; and in a section which is improving and not declining. Better live in a community a year before buying real estate, to get the feeling! Real-estate values are determined by feeling and not figures.

Final Advice

You can select a state to which to move by studying maps, real-estate booklets, and other propaganda. Then write to the state chamber of commerce located at the capital of the state that you are thinking of moving to. Tell them you would appreciate information regarding different localities, climate, and opportunities. But do not select any locality of that state without first visiting it, even if you need a leave-of-absence from your job in order to do this. In closing, just a word of financial advice: If you are looking for acreage, buy land adjoining some owned by the United States Agricultural Department and used as an experiment station. This should be good land and easy to dispose of if you ever wish to sell at a profit. This applies to all states.

Horse Racing Extension Bill Awaits House Action Today

Measure Could Strike Snag At Final Session

12-Day Fairgo Meet Involved; Bill Is Passed By Senate

Maryland's horse racing extension bill could win or lose by a "photo finish" today as the current session of the State Legislature draws to a close.

The Senate passed the bill before taking a weekend break. It is now in the House Ways and Means Committee, which may or may not bring it to the floor. A number of members have expressed doubt of its passage but it still has not had a full airing on the floor.

May Offer Amendment

Del. Schweinhaut (D-Montgomery) plans to offer an amendment today to require that one extra day be run at each track with the net proceeds going to the state.

Senators Kimple and Turnbull introduced the bill which would add 34 days to Maryland's horse racing season and it is of particular interest here because if it passes both houses and is signed by Governor McKeldin it would extend the meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association, August 3 to 13, from ten to twelve days.

The Maryland Racing Commission has proposed that eight more days be awarded the mile tracks so that Pimlico, Bowie and Laurel might have 36 each. The three now split 100 days.

Maryland's five minor tracks — Marlboro, Bel Air, Timonium, Hagerstown and Cumberland — would have 12 days each instead of ten so they might run two full weeks. The four harness tracks would have their allotment of nights increased from 20 to 24.

Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, favors more racing days. The tracks could better compete with neighboring states. He recently told the Senate Finance Committee that New Jersey and West Virginia are making it tough for Maryland tracks because their tracks are open longer.

Would Help Fairgo

Cumberland and Hagerstown racing districts conflict with those of the Charles Town (W.Va.) track in August and two additional days for Fairgo and the Hub City would be a big help to both Maryland tracks. Cumberland has had 10-day meets since 1935.

William "Junie" Perry was Potomac State's batting star with a triple and double in the first game and two singles in the nightcap. Alan Eckloff, who started on the mound for the Catamounts, was the loser of the second contest. The winning hurlers were Jim Vogelgesang and John Morey.

Mount Union is scheduled to return to this section on Saturday to meet Frostburg State Teachers in a pair of seven-inning contests, commencing at 1:30 p. m.

The long-range slugger made it easy for Tom Morgan to go all the way with a neat five hitter.

Mantle's homer, his fourth of the spring, provided the righthander with enough runs to win. Mantle came through in the opening inning, following a pass to Phil Rizzuto.

It scored John Kline ahead of him and gave the Senators their fourth straight win over the Reds.

Kline, with a perfect four-for-four at the plate, singled to open the last of the ninth. Catcher Steven Korcheck and pinch-hitter Maury McDermott went out, but Yost picked on pitcher Jim Pearce's first pitch and drove it over the left field wall.

All-States League Shaky, Makes Final Decision April 13

The fate of the All-States Baseball Association hangs on a thread.

That was the outlook expressed yesterday following a meeting at the Loyal Order of Moose Home here.

It was learned that only three teams are definitely set for the 1955 campaign — Moorefield Moose, Frostburg Demons and the Cumberland Old Germans.

Centerville (Pa.) sent word that it was uncertain while Everett (Pa.) turned down a berth in the sandlot circuit. The league can't operate with only three teams but officials decided to hold one more meeting before making a final decision.

Teams interested will gather at the Moose Home Wednesday April 13 at 7:30 p. m. Whether the league will continue or dissolve will be known at that time.

New York Giants Catch Cleveland

16,072 See Champs Square Series, 7-5

NEW ORLEANS, April 3 (AP)—The New York Giants staged a three-run rally in the eighth inning to down the Cleveland Indians 7-5 and snap a three-game losing streak before a record Pelican Stadium turnout of 16,072 today.

Veteran southpaw Hal Newhouse, who had just replaced starter Mike Garcia on the mound for the Indians, was the victim. After pinch-hitter Foster Gastle tied the score at 5-5 with a double, Don Mueller dropped a two-run single in right center to wrap up the victory. All runs came after two were out.

There was one homer, by second baseman Bobby Avila of the Indians with one on in the fifth.

Don Liddle pitched the first seven innings for the Giants and was credited with the victory. Jim Hearn finished up.

The Giants and Indians, moving on to Montgomery, Ala., from here, are all-square in their cross-country barnstorming tour at seven victories apiece.

Zauchin's Home Run Beats Roberts, 4-2

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 3 (AP)—First baseman Norm Zauchin's first home run of the spring season, a 375-foot, two-run blast off ace Robin Roberts, broke a deadlock as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2 today.

Zauchin figured in all of the Boston scoring with a second inning single sandwiched between doubles by Sammy White and Ted Lepcio accounting for the first two Boston runs.

Roberts, giving up but one walk, pitched the full game, the first Philadelphia hurler to go the distance.

Boston's Frank Sullivan allowed three singles in his seven innings on the mound, all three by first baseman Earl Torgeson, but his wildness kept him in hot water. He handed out six walks and hit a batter.

Richie Ashburn scored both Phillie runs after walks.

Maxwell Cops Azalea Open Golf Tourney

Texan Posts Record 270, Edges Souchak By Single Stroke

By KEN ALTYA

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Billy Maxwell rallied on the last nine holes today after losing his three day grip on the lead to win the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament by one-stroke over Mike Souchak. Maxwell shot 69, giving him a 270 tournament record total and $2,200 first money.

Maxwell's first major victory as a professional came six months after his Army discharge. He has been a professional about a year and a half. The stocky little 25-year-old from Odessa, Tex., who won the 1951 U.S. amateur championship, unloaded three birdies in a row starting on the 13th hole to take a one shot lead, with the help of Souchak's three-putt performance on the 13th green a few minutes earlier. Big Mike had gone a stroke in front with an outgoing 33 to 35 for Billy.

Billy protected his lead with pars on 16 and 17, two holes he bogied yesterday as he showed signs of cracking under the pressure of carrying the lead. He finished with a one-over five on 18 as he played it safe to match Souchak's earlier five.

Souchak Wins $1,500

Souchak, from Durham, N. C., choice of his fellow pros to win the Masters Tournament opening Thursday, added $1,500 to his previous leading money winning total of $11,200 with his runnerup finish.

Bob Toski, last year's money winning leader from Livingston, N. J., fought back from two outgoing sixes to finish with par 72 and take third money of $1,170 with his 275 total, five shots back of Maxwell, with whom he played.

Fourth money of $980 went to Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N. Y., who had 71 for 276, a shot ahead of Jerry Barber of Los Angeles who won $840.

The chunky, soft-spoken Maxwell had won $4,600 before today on the winter tour to rank 10th. His best previous finish was a first-place tie at Baton Rouge, La., a month ago. He was last in a three-way playoff.

Set Tourney Record

Maxwell and Souchak both broke the previous tournament record, 272 set three years ago by Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif.

Maxwell had 65-68-68-69 for his four tours of the 6,795-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

Horse Racing Extension Bill Awaits House Action Today

Measure Could Strike Snag At Final Session

12-Day Fairgo Meet Involved; Bill Is Passed By Senate

Maryland's horse racing extension bill could win or lose by a "photo finish" today as the current session of the State Legislature draws to a close.

The Senate passed the bill before taking a weekend break. It is now in the House Ways and Means Committee, which may or may not bring it to the floor. A number of members have expressed doubt of its passage but it still has not had a full airing on the floor.

May Offer Amendment

Del. Schweinhaut (D-Montgomery) plans to offer an amendment today to require that one extra day be run at each track with the net proceeds going to the state.

Senators Kimble and Turnbull introduced the bill which would add 34 days to Maryland's horse racing season and it is of particular interest here because if it passes both houses and is signed by Governor McKeldin it would extend the meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association, August 3 to 13, from ten to twelve days.

The Maryland Racing Commission has proposed that eight more days be awarded the mile tracks so that Pimlico, Bowie and Laurel might have 36 each. The three now split 100 days.

Maryland's five minor tracks — Marlboro, Bel Air, Timonium, Hagerstown and Cumberland — would have 12 days each instead of ten so they might run two full weeks. The four harness tracks would have their allotment of nights increased from 20 to 24.

Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, favors more racing days. The tracks could better compete with neighboring states. He recently told the Senate Finance Committee that New Jersey and West Virginia are making it tough for Maryland tracks because their tracks are open longer.

Would Help Fairgo

Cumberland and Hagerstown racing dates conflict with those of the Charles Town (W.Va.) track in August and two additional days for Fairgo and the Hub City would be a big help to both Maryland tracks. Cumberland has had 10-day meets since 1935.

Mount Union Whips Cats Twice, 5-3, 8-6

Kent State University's Golden Flashes of Kent, Ohio, invade this section this weekend for three games—two with Potomac State and one with Frostburg State Teachers College.

The Ohioans, coached by Matt Resick, will meet the Bobcats Thursday at Frostburg while on Friday and Saturday the Mid-American Conference nine will meet John Maider's Catamounts at Keyser.

Mount Union College of Alliance, Ohio, helped launch the collegiate baseball season in this area Saturday by taking both ends of a doubleheader from Potomac State College at Keyser. The scores were 5-3 and 8-6. The two wins gave Mount Union a 5-4 edge in their series with Potomac State teams since 1951.

The Purple Raiders defeated Bob Sirk in the opening game and scored eight runs in the first three frames to bag the nightcap. William "Junie" Perry was Potomac State's batting star with a triple and double in the first game and two singles in the nightcap. Alan Eckloff, who started on the mound for the Catamounts, was the loser of the second contest. The winning hurlers were Jim Vogelgesang and John Morey.

Mount Union is scheduled to return to this section on Saturday to meet Frostburg State Teachers in a pair of seven-inning contests, commencing at 1:30 p. m.

Hockey Player Belts Referee, Is Suspended

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3 (INS)—Bob Bailey, center of the Pittsburgh Hornets, tonight was indefinitely suspended by American Hockey League President John Chick for his attack Saturday night in Pittsburgh on Referee Jerry Olinski.

Olinski was flattened during a playoff game between the Hornets and the Buffalo Bisons. The blow came after a slashing penalty had been called on Bailey. His case will be further considered in Buffalo next Wednesday, Chick said.

The playoff finals stand at one game apiece in the best-of-seven series.

Fort Hill Thinclads Open In Martinsburg On Friday

Vie In Quadrangular Meet Of Ten Events

Coach William P. Hahn's Fort Hill High School track and field team will make its 1955 debut on Friday in a quadrangular meet at Coburn Field, Martinsburg, W. Va., at 1 p. m.

The other schools participating in the program of five relays and five field events will be Martinsburg, Handley High of Winchester and Charles Town.

Each school will be allowed three entries in the field events, namely, shot put, discus, high jump, broad jump and pole vault but the point scoring will differ from most of the past meets in which the Sentinels have participated. In the shot put, discus and broad jump the total distance credited to the three boys from each school will determine the winning team. Total height will count in the high jump and pole vault. The team finishing first in each event will receive five points with three for second place, two for third and one for fourth.

The five relays are 440 yards, 880 yards, one mile, two mile and shuttle hurdle. The point scoring will be 5-3-2-1 for first, second, third and fourth.

Friday's meet is the first of seven on Fort Hill's schedule.

Maryland Boxer Retains Title

Palumbo Is NCAA Winner In Idaho

POCATELLO, Idaho, April 3 (AP)—Michigan State's boxing team home Sunday, taking with it the National Collegiate (NCAA) title.

The Spartans were led to their second title in five years by Herb Odum, fast 147-pounder who successfully defended the championship he won last year.

After the final fight it was revealed that Odum had gone through the entire tournament with a cracked rib. He received the injury sparring with a teammate last Monday. He fought three bouts here.

Named the outstanding boxer of the three-day tournament was clever Selja Naya, the University of Hawaii's 125-pound champion who also won that division in 1954.

Other 1954 titlists who again won championships were John Granger, Syracuse, 139 pounds, and Vince Palumbo, Maryland, 132 pounds. Another champion, Gordy Gladson of Washington State, won the 178 pound crown. He was the 165-pound champion in 1952 and 1954.

The other individual champions included Tony Dibaise, Virginia, 156. Trailing Michigan State College, which had 17 points, were Louisiana State, San Jose State and Syracuse, each with 13 points, Wisconsin 12, Washington State 10, Hawaii, Idaho State, Maryland and Virginia, each 9.

The Cubs' home run total was one less than yesterday's output with Hank Sauer, Jim Bolger and Harry Chitt on the production line. Chitt, for the second time this exhibition season, hit a pair in one game.

Howie Pollet and Warren Hacker held the Missions to five hits.

Braves' Conley Beats Dodgers

Gene Whiffs Eight, Meyer Is Loser, 5-1

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Gene Conley became the first Milwaukee pitcher to go eight innings today as the Braves took the measure of the Dodgers 5-1 for a 4-3 lead in their exhibition series.

Conley allowed six hits, struck out eight and walked two. Russ Meyer's double and a single by Junior Gilliam spoiled the Milwaukee shutout in the sixth. Ray Crone pitched the ninth.

Joe Black pitched five good innings, allowing three hits including an inside-the-park homer by Bill Bruton. Meyer held the 1-1 tie for one inning but gave up a tally in the seventh when Del Crandall singled home Jack Dittmer.

The temperamental righthander failed to finish the seventh which saw the Braves add three runs to their lead.

Yankee Home Runs Beat Memphis, 13-1

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—Homers by Mickey Mantle, Andy Carey and Enos Slaughter highlighted a 12-hit attack as the New York Yankees overwhelmed the Memphis Chickens of the Southern Association 13-1 today.

The long-range slugging made it easy for Tom Morgan to go all the way with a neat five hitter.

Morgan became the second New York hurler to have worked the entire route. Bob Grim did it yesterday against the Birmingham Barons. Morgan walked two and hit one batsman, while fanning six.

Mantle's homer, his fourth of the spring, provided the righthander with enough runs to win. Mantle came through in the opening inning, following a pass to Phil Rizzuto.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Third baseman Eddie Yost smacked his third home run of the exhibition season—a two-run, out shot in the ninth inning—for Washington's 6-4 margin over the Cincinnati Redlegs today. It scored John Kline ahead of him and gave the Senators their fourth straight win over the Reds.

Kline, with a perfect four-for-four at the plate, singled to open the last of the ninth. Catcher Steven Korcheck and pinch-hitter Maury McDermott went out, but Yost picked on pitcher Jim Pearce's first pitch and drove it over the left field wall.

Jim Greengrass, with a home run and a double, had given the Reds a 4-2 lead after four innings. Cincinnati 010 200 000—4 7 2

All-States League Shaky, Makes Final Decision April 13

The fate of the All-States Baseball Association hangs on a thread.

That was the outlook expressed yesterday following a meeting at the Loyal Order of Moose Home here.

It was learned that only three teams are definitely set for the 1955 campaign — Moorefield Moose, Frostburg Demons and the Cumberland Old Germans.

Centerville (Pa.) sent word that it was uncertain while Everett (Pa.) turned down a berth in the sandlot circuit. The league can't operate with only three teams but officials decided to hold one more meeting before making a final decision.

Teams interested will gather at the Moose Home Wednesday April 13 at 7:30 p. m. Whether the league will continue or dissolve will be known at that time.

New York Giants Catch Cleveland

16,072 See Champs Square Series, 7-5

NEW ORLEANS, April 3 (AP)—The New York Giants staged a three-run rally in the eighth inning to down the Cleveland Indians 7-5 and snap a three-game losing streak before a record Pelican Stadium turnout of 16,072 today.

Veteran southpaw Hal Newhouse, who had just replaced starter Mike Garcia on the mound for the Indians, was the victim. After pinch-hitter Foster Gastele, man tied the score at 5-all with a double, Don Mueller dropped a two-run single in right center to wrap up the victory. All runs came after two were out.

There was one homer, by second baseman Bobby Avila of the Indians with one on in the fifth.

Don Liddle pitched the first seven innings for the Giants and was credited with the victory. Jim Hearn finished up.

The Giants and Indians, moving on to Montgomery, Ala., from here, are all-square in their cross-country barnstorming tour at seven victories apiece.

Zauchin's Home Run Beats Roberts, 4-2

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 3 (AP)—First baseman Norm Zauchin's first home run of the spring season, a 375-foot, two-run blast off ace Robin Roberts, broke a deadlock as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2 today.

Zauchin figured in all of the Boston scoring with a second inning single sandwiched between doubles by Sammy White and Ted Lepcio accounting for the first two Boston runs.

Roberts, giving up but one walk, pitched the full game, the first Philadelphia hurler to go the distance.

Boston's Frank Sullivan allowed three singles in his seven innings on the mound, all three by first baseman Earl Torgeson, but his wildness kept him in hot water. He handed out six walks and hit a batter.

Maxwell Cops Azalea Open Golf Tourney

Texan Posts Record 270, Edges Souchak By Single Stroke

By KEN ALYTA

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Billy Maxwell rallied on the last nine holes today after losing his three day grip on the lead to win the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament by one stroke over Mike Souchak. Maxwell shot 69, giving him a 270 tournament record total and $2,200 first money.

Maxwell's first major victory as a professional came six months after his Army discharge. He has been a professional about a year and a half. The stocky little 25-year-old from Odessa, Tex., who won the 1951 U.S. amateur championship, unloaded three birdies in a row starting on the 13th hole to take a one shot lead, with the help of Souchak's three-putt performance on the 13th green a few minutes earlier. Big Mike had gone a stroke in front with an outgoing 33 to 35 for Billy.

Billy protected his lead with pars on 16 and 17, two holes he bogied yesterday as he showed signs of cracking under the pressure of carrying the lead. He finished with a one-over five on 18 as he played it safe to match Souchak's earlier five.

Souchak, from Durham, N. C., choice of his fellow pros to win the Masters Tournament opening Thursday, added $1,500 to his previous leading money winning total of $11,200 with his runnerup finish.

Bob Toski, last year's money winning leader from Livingston, N. J., fought back from two outgoing sixes to finish with par 72 and take third money of $1,170 with his 275 total, five shots back of Maxwell, with whom he played. Fourth money of $800 went to Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N. Y., who had 71 for 276, a shot ahead of Jerry Barber of Los Angeles who won $840.

The chunky, soft-spoken Maxwell had won $4,600 before today on the winter tour to rank 10th. His best previous finish was a first-place tie at Baton Rouge, La., a month ago. He was last in a three-way playoff.

Set Tourney Record
Maxwell and Souchak both broke the previous tournament record, 272 set three years ago by Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif. Maxwell had 65-68-68-69 for his four tours of the 6,795-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

Pirates Stage Rally In 9th, Beat Orioles

Six-Run Outburst Decides Game, 11-8

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates staged a six-run rally in the ninth inning today to whip the Baltimore Orioles 11-8 in a spring training game. Jack Shepard batted in four of the six runs with a grand-slam home run.

Gus Triandos of Baltimore smacked a homer with the bases filled in the first inning.

Both grand-slam blows came after the bases had been loaded on walks.

Pirate Manager Fred Haney was tossed out of the game in the sixth inning by plate umpire Ed Hurley after Haney had protested a balk called against a Pirate hurler.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

FAR UNDER PAR

IT IS particularly in the bidding of freak hands that a partnership can show its mettle—and North-South certainly did not "measure up" in the case below.

North dealer.
 North-South vulnerable.

♠ A 10 8 6 5
 ♥ K J 9 4 3 2
 ♣ 8 5

The bidding:

North East South West

1 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 NT 2 ♠

3 ♠ 3 NT 3 NT 3 NT

Pass Pass Pass Pass

West made his natural lead, the ten of clubs, against the fantastic three-notrump contract, and when East won and returned a low diamond, South made the unfortunate guess of playing the diamond ten. The upshot was that East-West scored an 1100-point penalty.

PPG Donates To Red Cross Drive Here

The 1955 Red Cross campaign in Allegany County has been given a big lift with the receipt of $1,000
from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Foundation.

Robert Little Ebert, campaign
chairman, says "Pittsburgh Plate Glass has again expressed their true interest in the welfare of Alle-gany County. Even though it will be a couple of years before their new plant goes into operation, their response to our appeal was instan-taneous. Red Cross and every citizen of the county should view this splendid cooperation as an indication that Pittsburgh Plate is going to be a public-spirited good neighbor."

This now brings the current drive up to $29,814.44. A little over $7,000 still is needed to reach the $37,000 goal. Ebert is confident that this total will be forthcoming, but the campaign has to be extended to do it.

The formal opening of the Kolb
Service and Supply Center in Flintstone was held over the weekend.

The combination hardware store,
workshop and apartment structure was built by E. Lester Kolb and his son, Edward L. Kolb. Mrs. Kolb, Sr., will conduct an antique department in the center.

Hardware Center

The United States WAF Band, stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., is appealing to all area Air Force recruiters, according to M. Sgt. Ralph Stewart, for enlistments directly to the musical organization.

Sgt. Stewart said enlistment terminations and wedding bells are breaking up the band, and within the next five months a number of qualified women instrumentalists will be needed for replacements.

Wanted, he said, are women
graduates of high school who play
trumpet, trombone, French horn,
bass horn, clarinet and bassoon.

Sgt. Stewart emphasized that the appeal for these special enlistments is classified to his office as "extremely urgent," and he hopes there are women in this area who will be interested.

Delegates Kill

reorganization of the Allegany
County Juvenile Court.

Del. See said the plan is a "closed issue" and was voted down
twice.

But there is some talk, he reported, by some members of the delegation, of plans to reconsider the reorganization plan and to urge
"agreement in part."

It is understood that this could call for some additions to the present staff of the court, but not the full complement called for in the bill which contains facilities recommended by PTA groups and educational authorities.

Delegates Kill Plan For Voting Machines

The Allegany County Delegation over the weekend killed Senate bills calling for the adoption of voting machines in Allegany County, modernization of the Allegany County Juvenile Court and the establishment of a central purchasing agency, but approved after reconsideration a fourth bill calling for a salaried tax collector.

Three Persons Injured In Auto Mishap In Keyser

Vehicle Collides With Parked Car On Road

Three persons were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital following a collision between their car and a parked automobile on Waxler Road, about a mile east of Keyser, W. Va., yesterday afternoon.

Taken to the hospital for X-rays and observation were Mrs. Nina Bosley and Mrs. May Sell Bosley, both of Norfolk, Va., and Max Dotson, 20, of Parkersburg, W. Va. None was seriously injured.

The driver of the vehicle in which the three were riding was Richard Hartman, also from Norfolk, where he and Dotson are stationed with the Navy. Hartman was not hurt.

West Virginia State Police are investigating the mishap, which occurred about 2 p. m. as the Hartman car was traveling along the dirt road on the outskirts of Keyser.

The parked car, owned by Alvan A. Noyes, Keyser, was unoccupied at the time. It was badly damaged, police said.

Sacred Heart Hospital attaches in Cumberland last night said three persons admitted there Saturday in various mishaps all were in good condition.

Admitted for X-rays and observation were Robert Burke, 35, of Potomac Park, who was injured about the right arm and shoulder when his car fell on him as he was changing a tire; John Teter, 15, of 170 Main Street, Ridgeley, W. Va., who was hurt in a fall at Central YMCA on Friday night while playing basketball; and Paul Smith, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, Sr., Benjamin Banneker Homes, Frederick Street, who was admitted for treatment of injuries to his right shoulder suffered in a fall while at play.

Also reported in "good" condition was George Lowery Jr., 5, of 417 Holland Street, who was struck by a car March 24.

Memorial Hospital attendants noted that Gergette Cline, 4, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Butts, 877 Maryland Avenue, who was hit by an automobile last Monday, was "improving."

Meanwhile, West Virginia State Police also are probing an accident which occurred yesterday morning just north of Fort Ashby on Route 28 when an automobile ran off the highway while rounding a curve. No one was reported hurt in the accident.

Receiver Named As Bus Concern Halts Operation

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 3 (AP)—West Virginia Transportation Co. has ceased bus operations. The firm's approximately 30 buses were pulled out of service after making their last runs last night.

Henry Church Jr. of Clarksburg was named special receiver for the company yesterday in Harrison County Circuit Court. He said tonight he would begin his job of collecting accounts due and selling assets this week.

West Virginia Transportation, a subsidiary of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for many years, was sold about the first of this year to Carl A. Boe, an independent bus operator at McKeesport, Pa.

Boe announced Friday night that the company was ceasing operations.

Father Charged With Chaining Boy, 5, To Bed

Westernport Area Man Gets Suspended Term

County authorities have revealed an unusual case of harsh treatment of a young boy which resulted in an 18-months suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction for the youngster's father.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty said the child, five years old, was chained to his bed with a heavy chain and padlock each night by his father.

Complaints from the family's neighbors were brought to the attention of the Maryland State Police who investigated and arrested the couple, who also have four other children.

Tried in Juvenile Court on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment and contributing to the child's neglect, the father pleaded guilty and received the suspended sentence from Magistrate Alban C. Thompson. The mother was not tried, authorities stated.

The parents explained that the youngster had the habit of arising in the middle of the night and getting into the kitchen of their home where he played with matches, knives and other utensils.

Fearful that he might set the house afire while the family was asleep or that he would injure himself, the father decided to chain him to the bed each night.

When asked by authorities why the matches, knives and other utensils were not placed where the child could not reach them instead of using the chain, the father replied that he hadn't thought of that method of correcting the boy.

The child was examined by a physician and some marks were found on his body as well as minor abrasions but the boy did not seem to have been seriously harmed.

Getty said the child's parents were not well educated and that the harsh treatment of the child had not been carried out for more than a few days before authorities were told about it.

The child, as well as his brothers and sisters, did not seem to be mistreated in other aspects, Getty said.

Mineral County Shows Decline In Road Mishaps

Traffic safety on Mineral County highways showed some improvement during March this year, compared with March a year ago, West Virginia State Police report.

Last month, only six mishaps were investigated by the Keyser detachment of the State Police, compared to nine a year ago.

To date this year, Mineral County road accidents total 34. Police note that in 13 of these, alcohol was considered a contributing factor. Saturdays seem to be the worst days, with 10 of the 34 mishaps occurring that day. Sunday is also a dangerous day on the roads with six tallied for that day.

Thursdays show five; Fridays show five; while four are credited to Tuesdays and three to Wednesdays. Monday seems the safest day to travel, police noted, since only one mishap since January 1 occurred on a Monday.

Two deaths due to motor mishaps in Mineral County this year occurred, one on a Thursday and one on a Friday.

Final Shipment Of Trees To Arrive In County Today

The final shipment of trees to be planted in Allegany and Garrett counties for reforestation purposes, is scheduled for delivery today to the Green Ridge station and Swallow Falls station.

They will be distributed, according to William H. Johnson, district forester, to those private landowners who made requests during the past six months.

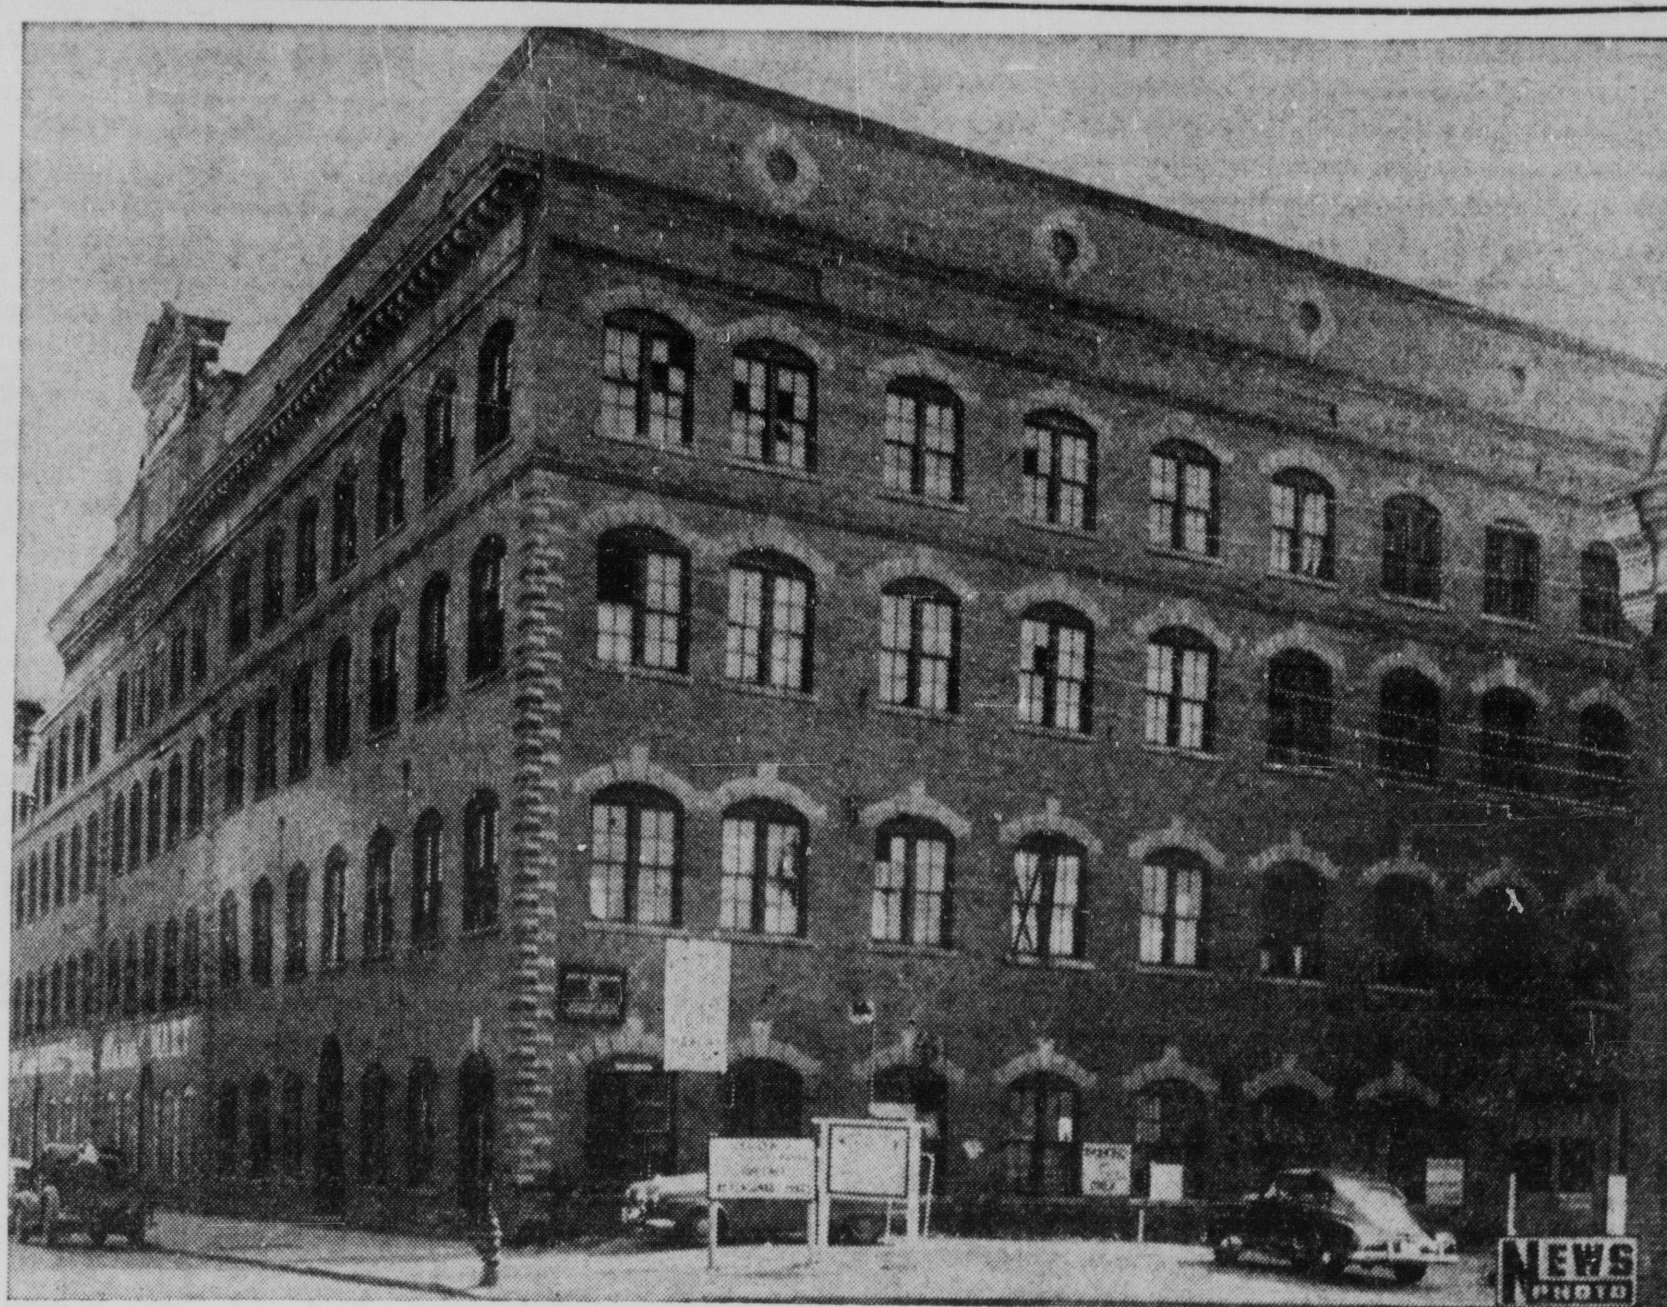

The total number of trees being planted on land in Garrett County is nearly 900,000, while some 150,000 trees are being planted in Allegany County.

Johnson pointed out that about 200,000 trees are being planted in Washington County and Frederick County.

Today's shipment will complete those allocated for this district this season. Land owners desiring to secure trees for next year provided by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks are asked to contact Johnson at his office in the Court House Building here.

Arrangements will be made to examine the site, advise the owner of the most suitable type trees to plant and also the ordering from the nursery at Harmons, Md.

While most planting is accomplished during the spring season, some 88,000 trees were planted last fall in Washington and Frederick counties.

Farmers Must Arrange Tests For Brucellosis

The initiative for getting all dairy cattle and all beef cattle other than steers blood tested for brucellosis, or Bangs' disease, rests with the farmers, County Agent Joseph M. Steger advised yesterday.

The cattleman should contact an accredited practicing veterinarian so that he can make arrangements to test their herds. For non-accredited herds the federal government is providing the funds for the tests through June 30, 1956. In accredited herds calves between six and eight months also will be vaccinated without charge.

Maryland's brucellosis law requires that all cattle in the state be tested by November 1 of this year. All non-vaccinated cattle over two-and-one-half years must be tested.

Infected cattle must be slaughtered by December 31 of this year. To be eligible for indemnity the owner must have his infected cattle slaughtered within 15 days after they are tagged and branded.

Indemnity payments may not exceed $50 for grade animals and $100 for purebred stock. The test to keep the cattle certified must be administered at least once a year.

This campaign against brucellosis is designed to curb undulant fever in human beings, which is contracted from cattle infected with brucellosis, Steger explained.

Girl Scouts Will Hold Annual Day Camp In Park July 18-29

Day Camp for members of Girl Scout troops of the Cumberland Council will be held again this year at Constitution Park, according to Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive scout director.

The camp will be held from July 18 to July 29, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Last year, Miss Hurlburt noted, there were 144 girls enrolled for Day Camp activities. The girls are assigned to units of not more than 20 girls each, in charge of trained volunteer camp counselors.

Student nurses from both the Memorial Hospital and Sacred Heart schools of nursing are assigned daily to assist with any emergencies which might occur, and also to help with health training phases of scouting.

With established camp being held this year at the Boy Scouts' Camp Potomac instead of at Green Ridge, there is more interest in camping and more girls have indicated they will participate, Miss Hurlburt said. Dates for establishment of camp are June 19 to July 3.

Counselors for both established and day camps are needed and qualified persons who are interested should apply at the Girl Scout House on Greene Street. Girls home from college are usually engaged for this work, and a staff of 25 is needed for established camp.

The Girl Scouts are currently engaged in their annual cookie sale, funds from which are used to finance their camping program.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at McKendree Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. George T. C. Bell. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The King Of King's Needs

By REV. GEORGE T. C. BELL

On the occasion described in St. Mark 11, 1-3, Jesus assumed kingly authority. Loved as a friend, revered as a teacher, and followed as a worker of miracles, He now declared His kingship, and demanded obedience and homage. Therein He taught us, His subjects, some lessons.

1. As a king, Jesus requires absolute obedience. To the two disciples this command must have appeared strange. After finding the animal denoted, they were not to ask for it, but to take it; and if their action was questioned they were merely to say, "The Lord hath need of him." If it belonged to a foe, they might be arrested or assailed for robbery. It was, however, the first occasion on which they simply obeyed. Christ had a right to their absolute obedience, and their faith was tested by this demand upon it. Unquestioning obedience to truth and to duty is far too rare. We want to see the reason for a command, the probable issues of it, and when we see neither, too often we withhold obedience. Peril from this is now more frequent, because authority as such is weakened on all sides. Children in the home, which is the true sphere for the cultivation of obedience, are too often allowed to question when they ought to be told to obey. If we are sure of duty as followers of Jesus Christ, we must be regardless of consequences. Jesus knows our difficulties, just as He knew the question of the owner of the colt. He asks us to take one step, and to take it boldly, although we do not see what the next will be, nor whether it may lead us. If we go on to the Red Sea, it will afford us a path of safety and cut off our foes from following us. If an angel rouses us from sleep, and we arise and follow him, the great iron gate we cannot stir will open to us of its own accord.

II. As a king, Jesus claims the use of all He requires. We forget that we are not the absolute owners of anything. All we have is held in trust; but our seeming possession tests our disposition, and helps to develop character. If we wish to prove the honesty of a servant, and let his skill in management grow, we do not give him a small sum each day, and check and watch him till the evening, and then expect a strict account. No, we put a large sum at his disposal, and "after a long time" reckon with him, with the result, that if he has been faithful he has increased his capital and his fitness. So God puts at our disposal wealth, talent, and the like, in the hope that for our own sake we will use all loyally for Him. Christ Jesus, during His ministry, was as one "having nothing, and yet possessing all things." No colt was His, but one was there, and when his owner heard "The Lord hath need of him," it was ready for the Lord's use. The message sent to that man, when it comes home to our hearts, should silence all objections to the making of effort or sacrifice. If we have to give up some luxury so as to help the poor, if we have to sacrifice hard-earned leisure to teach the ignorant, if we have to part with one who is dear to us, our anger and defiance will be quieted when we say to ourselves, "The Lord hath need of them." Christ asks of us, as He asks of the man who owned the colt, what is possible and reasonable; and instead of waiting to do something great, let us do what we can, and that which is mean in itself will be hallowed and glorified when used by the Lord.

III. As a king, Jesus exercises a spiritual rule. Until now his kingship had been concealed except from the nearest and dearest disciples. On this occasion it was declared. Yet the spiritual nature of that kingship was so evident

Firemen Back County Voting Machine Bill

Association On Record In Favor Of Passage

The Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association yesterday went on record as being in favor of the adoption of Senate Bill 572, providing for the mandatory use of voting machines in Allegany County.

The motion was adopted unanimously by representatives of the 25 companies present and the association secretary was instructed to send telegrams to each of the Allegany County delegation members of the organization's stand.

David E. Kirk, president of the association, last night said the organization also decided at yesterday's regular monthly meeting at McCoolle Fire Hall to take part in Cumberland's Bicentennial celebration, but will not sponsor a fireman's day program.

Firemen's Night Planned

The association also decided yesterday to hold the third annual firemen's night to open the annual Cumberland Fair this year. A committee named to make plans for the firemen's night includes Cromwell Zembower, chairman, Charles Crawford, George Comp, Francis Fatkins and Harry Beeghley.

The bi-county group then endorsed William A. Wilson, who has served as state association treasurer for the past nine years, for a 10th term at the state group's convention in Cumberland June 22, 23 and 24.

Plans were made for the bi-county convention to be held in Shaft, June 9. The convention will get under way at 1 p. m. (EDT) and $125 in prizes will be awarded for the convention parade.

Committee on arrangements for the parade and prizes is William A. Wilson, chairman, W. Earl Lawyer, John Prichard, Jesse Jacobs, chairman; Harry DeHaven, Homer Ambrose, Harry Hackett and George Comp.

Tickets for the annual smoker to be held Saturday, April 16 in Barton were distributed at yesterday's meeting, and the May meeting was moved to May 15 from May 1 because of the fire school arrangements. Potomac Fire Company of Westport will be host at the May affair.

Irwin W. Johnson and Herman C. Paul of the Takoma Park Volunteer Fire Company were guests at yesterday's meeting in McCoolle.

Home Rule Bill Awaits Passage

(From The Associated Press)
Legislation to put into effect the Home Rule amendment to the Maryland Constitution which was approved by the voters last fall is practically through the mill as the General Assembly heads into its final working day today.

The Senate still has to concur in some amendments tacked onto the bulky measure by the House, but there is no indication this will cause any disagreement.

A bill to require annual inspection of automobiles at private garages cleared the House and passed the second reading in the Senate Saturday night. Some of the 18 members who voted for it on the test ballot indicated, however, that they might oppose it on third and final reading today.

Governor McKeldin's bond bill calling for $9,195,750 in construction and repairs of facilities at state institutions cleared both houses with little serious difficulty. Both the Senate and the House applied the net reduction of $502,550 applied to it in their finance committees.

The two drivers were arrested and lodged in City Jail overnight Friday evening after their cars collided on Winesap Street.

Carl Dicken, 529 Fayette Street, a passenger in Bridges' car, posted bond on a misdemeanor charge which was dismissed Saturday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

The Weather

Typical spring weather prevailed once again in the Cumberland area as the mercury soared into the 60s yesterday. Although Saturday, which saw a high of 75 degrees, was more mild in contrast to Sunday's gusty winds which sometimes measured up to 30 miles per hour, the sun shone on a pleasant Palm Sunday. Yesterday's official high and low readings on the thermometer in Constitution Park were 62 and 41 degrees, respectively. At 7:30 p. m. the temperature reading was 46. The humidity at 6 p. m. was 62 percent.

Three Persons Injured In Auto Mishap In Keyser

Vehicle Collides With Parked Car On Road

Three persons were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital following a collision between their car and a parked automobile on Waxler Road, about a mile east of Keyser, W. Va., yesterday afternoon.

Taken to the hospital for X-rays and observation were Mrs. Nina Bosley and Mrs. May Sell Bosley, both of Norfolk, Va., and Max Dotson, 20, of Parkersburg, W. Va. None was seriously injured.

The driver of the vehicle in which the three were riding was Richard Hartman, also from Norfolk, where he and Dotson are stationed with the Navy. Hartman was not hurt.

West Virginia State Police are investigating the mishap, which occurred about 2 p. m. as the Hartman car was traveling along the dirt road on the outskirts of Keyser.

The parked car, owned by Alvan A. Noyes, Keyser, was unoccupied at the time. It was badly damaged, police said.

Sacred Heart Hospital attaches in Cumberland last night said three persons admitted there Saturday in various mishaps all were in good condition.

Admitted for X-rays and observation were Robert Burke, 35, of Potomac Park, who was injured about the right arm and shoulder when his car fell on him as he was changing a tire; John Teter, 15, of 170 Main Street, Ridgeley, W. Va., who was hurt in a fall at Central YMCA on Friday night while playing basketball; and Paul Smith, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, Sr., Benjamin Banneker Homes, Frederick Street, who was admitted for treatment of injuries to his right shoulder suffered in a fall while at play.

Also reported in "good" condition was George Lowery Jr., 5, of 417 Holland Street, who was struck by a car March 24.

Memorial Hospital attendants noted that Gertrude Cline, 4, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Butts, 877 Maryland Avenue, who was hit by an automobile last Monday, was "improving."

Meanwhile, West Virginia State Police also are probing an accident which occurred yesterday morning just north of Fort Ashby on Route 28 when an automobile ran off the highway while rounding a curve. No one was reported hurt in the accident.

Father Charged With Chaining Boy, 5, To Bed

Westernport Area Man Gets Suspended Term

County authorities have revealed an unusual case of harsh treatment of a young boy which resulted in an 18-months suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction for the youngster's father.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty said the child, five years old, was chained to his bed with a heavy chain and padlock each night by his father.

Complaints from the family's neighbors were brought to the attention of the Maryland State Police who investigated and arrested the couple, who also have four other children.

Tried in Juvenile Court on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment and contributing to the child's neglect, the father pleaded guilty and received the suspended sentence from Magistrate Alban C. Thompson. The mother was not tried, authorities said.

The parents explained that the youngster had the habit of arising in the middle of the night and getting into the kitchen of their home where he played with matches, knives and other utensils.

Fearful that he might set the house afire while the family was asleep or that he would injure himself, the father decided to chain him to the bed each night.

When asked by authorities why the matches, knives and other utensils were not placed where the child could not reach them instead of using the chain, the father replied that he hadn't thought of that method of correcting the boy.

The child was examined by a physician and some marks were found on his body as well as minor abrasions but the boy did not seem to have been seriously harmed.

Getty said the child's parents were not well educated and that the harsh treatment of the child had not been carried out for more than a few days before authorities were told about it.

The child, as well as his brothers and sisters, did not seem to be mistreated in other aspects, Getty said.

Mineral County Shows Decline In Road Mishaps

Traffic safety on Mineral County highways showed some improvement during March this year, compared with March a year ago, West Virginia State Police report.

Last month, only six mishaps were investigated by the Keyser detachment of the State Police, compared to nine a year ago.

To date this year, Mineral County road accidents total 34. Police note that in 13 of these, alcohol was considered a contributing factor. Saturdays seem to be the worst days, with 10 of the 34 mishaps occurring that day. Sunday is also a dangerous day on the roads with six tallied for that day.

Thursdays show five; Fridays show five; while four are credited to Tuesdays and three to Wednesdays. Monday seems the safest day to travel, police noted, since only one mishap since January 1 occurred on a Monday.

Two deaths due to motor mishaps in Mineral County this year occurred, one on a Thursday and one on a Friday.

In charting their record of mishaps this year, police noted that the 34 crashes occurred as follows: One in Keyser; seven on Route 28; six on Route 46-W; five on Route 50-E; seven on Route 220; two on Route 46-E; one on Route 50-W; and one on Route 42.

Girl Scouts Will Hold Annual Day Camp In Park July 18-29

Day Camp for members of Girl Scout troops of the Cumberland Council will be held again this year at Constitution Park, according to Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive scout director.

The camp will be held from July 18 to July 29, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Last year, Miss Hurlburt noted, there were 144 girls enrolled for Day Camp activities. The girls are assigned to units of not more than 20 girls each, in charge of trained volunteer camp counselors.

Student nurses from both the Memorial Hospital and Sacred Heart schools of nursing are assigned daily to assist with any emergencies which might occur, and also to help with health training phases of scouting.

With established camp being held this year at the Boy Scouts' Camp Potomac instead of at Green Ridge, there is more interest in camping and more girls have indicated they will participate, Miss Hurlburt said. Dates for establishment camp are June 19 to July 3.

Counselors for both established and day camps are needed and qualified persons who are interested should apply at the Girl Scout House on Greene Street. Girls home from college are usually engaged for this work, and a staff of 25 is needed for established camp.

The Girl Scouts are currently engaged in their annual cookie sale, funds from which are used to finance their camping program.

Today's Sermonette

The King Of King's Needs

By REV. GEORGE T. C. BELL

On the occasion described in St. Mark 11, 1-3, Jesus assumed kingly authority. Loved as a friend, revered as a teacher, and followed as a worker of miracles, He now declared His kingship, and demanded obedience and homage. Therein He taught us. His subjects, some lessons.

I. As a king, Jesus requires absolute obedience. To the two disciples this command must have appeared strange. After finding the animal denoted, they were not to ask for it, but to take it; and if their action was questioned they were merely to say, "The Lord hath need of him." If it belonged to a foe, they might be arrested or assailed for robbery. It was, however, the first occasion on which they simply obeyed. Christ had a right to their absolute obedience, and their faith was tested by this demand upon it. Unquestioning obedience to truth and to duty is far too rare. We want to see the reason for a command, the probable issues of it, and when we see neither, too often we withhold obedience. Peril from this is now more frequent, because authority as such is weakened on all sides. Children in the home, which is the true sphere for the cultivation of obedience, are too often allowed to question when they ought to be told to obey. If we are sure of duty as followers of Jesus Christ, we must be regardless of consequences. Jesus knows our difficulties, just as He knew the question of the owner of the colt. He asks us to take one step, and to take it boldly, although we do not see what the next will be, nor wether it may lead us. If we go on to the Red Sea, it will afford us a path of safety and cut off our foes from following us. If an angel rouses us from sleep, and we arise and follow him, the great iron gate we cannot stir will open to us of its own accord.

II. As a king, Jesus claims the use of all He requires. We forget that we are not the absolute owners of anything. All we have is held in trust; but our seeming possession tests our disposition, and helps to develop character. If we wish to prove the honesty of a servant, and let his skill in management grow, we do not give him a small sum each day, and check and watch him till the evening, and then expect a strict account. No, we put a large sum at his disposal, and "after a long time" reckon with him, with the result, that if he has been faithful he has increased his capital and his fitness. So God puts at our disposal wealth, talent, and the like, in the hope that for our own sake we will use all loyally for Him, Christ Jesus, during His ministry, was as one "having nothing, and yet possessing all things." No colt was His, but one was there, and when its owner heard "The Lord hath need of him," it was ready for the Lord's use. The message sent to that man, when it comes home to our hearts, should silence all objections to the making of effort or sacrifice. If we have to give up some luxury so as to help the poor, if we have to sacrifice hard-earned leisure to teach the ignorant, if we have to part with one who is dear to us, our anger and defiance will be quieted when we say to ourselves, "The Lord hath need of them."

Christ asks of us, as He asks of the man who owned the colt, what is possible and reasonable; and instead of waiting to do something great, let us do what we can, and that which is mean in itself will be hallowed and glorified when used by the Lord.

III. As a king, Jesus exercises a spiritual rule. Until now his kingship had been concealed except from the nearest and dearest disciples. On this occasion it was declared. Yet the spiritual nature of that kingship was so evident

Association On Record In Favor Of Passage

The Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association yesterday went on record as being in favor of the adoption of Senate Bill 572, providing for the mandatory use of voting machines in Allegany County.

The motion was adopted unanimously by representatives of the 25 companies present and the association secretary was instructed to send telegrams to each of the Allegany County delegation members of the organization's stand.

David E. Kirk, president of the association, last night said the organization also decided at yesterday's regular monthly meeting at McCool's Fire Hall to take part in Cumberland's Bicentennial celebration, but will not sponsor a fireman's day program.

Firemen's Night Planned

The association also decided yesterday to hold the third annual firemen's night to open the annual Cumberland Fair this year. A committee named to make plans for the firemen's night includes Cromwell Zembower, chairman, Charles Crawford, George Comp, Francis Fatkins and Harry Beeghley.

The bi-county group then endorsed William A. Wilson, who has served as state association treasurer for the past nine years, for a 10th term at the state group's convention in Cumberland June 22, 23 and 24.

Plans were made for the bi-county convention to be held in Shaft, June 9. The convention will get under way at 1 p. m. (EDT) and $125 in prizes will be awarded for the convention parade.

Committee on arrangements for the parade and prizes is William A. Wilson, chairman, W. Earl Lawyer, John Prichard, Jesse Jacobs, chairman; Harry DeHaven, Homer Ambrose, Harry Hackett and George Comp.

Tickets for the annual smoker to be held Saturday, April 16 in Barton were distributed at yesterday's meeting, and the May meeting was moved to May 15 from May 1 because of the fire school arrangements. Potomac Fire Company of Westport will be host at the May affair.

Irwin W. Johnson and Herman C. Paul of the Takoma Park Volunteer Fire Company were guests at yesterday's meeting in McCool's.

Home Rule Bill Awaits Passage

(From The Associated Press)

Legislation to put into effect the Home Rule amendment to the Maryland Constitution which was approved by the voters last fall is practically through the mill as the General Assembly heads into its final working day today.

The Senate still has to concur in some amendments tacked onto the bulky measure by the House, but there is no indication this will cause any disagreement.

A bill to require annual inspection of automobiles at private garages cleared the House and passed the second reading in the Senate Saturday night. Some of the 18 members who voted for it on the test ballot indicated, however, that they might oppose it on third and final readings today.

Governor McKeldin's bond bill calling for $9,195,750 in construction and repairs of facilities at state institutions cleared both houses with little serious difficulty. Both the Senate and the House upheld the net reduction of $502,550 applied to it in their finance committees.

Auto Mishap Case Is Continued To Tuesday

The auto accident case in which Theodore E. Bridges, Flintstone, and William E. Bowman, 119 Blaul Avenue, were each charged with two state motor vehicle violations was continued Saturday until tomorrow in Trial Magistrate Court.

Attorneys for Bowman requested the case be continued so witnesses could be summoned to appear.

The two drivers were arrested and lodged in City Jail overnight Friday evening after their cars collided on Wineow Street.

Carl Dicken, 529 Fayette Street, a passenger in Bridges' car, posted bond on a misdemeanor charge which was dismissed Saturday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

The Weather

Typical spring weather prevailed once again in the Cumberland area as the mercury soared into the 60s yesterday. Although Saturday, which saw a high of 75 degrees, was more mild in contrast to Sunday's gusty winds which sometimes measured up to 30 miles per hour, the sun shone on a pleasant Palm Sunday. Yesterday's official high and low readings on the thermometer in Constitution Park were 62 and 41 degrees, respectively. At 7:30 p. m. the temperature reading was 46. The humidity at 6 p. m. was 62 per cent.
